3 States Voting Today on Party Parley Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters today pick the bulk of some of the fattest delegations to the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

The nation's two most populous states, New York and California, have primaries.

At stake will be California's 81 votes and most of New York's 114 votes at the Democratic convention, and California's 70 votes and most of New York's 96 votes at the Republican convention.

One of the nation's least populous states, South Dakota also will have a primary vote for convention delegates.

Residents of three other states—Idaho, Mississippi, and Montana—also vote in primaries today. But, like Monday's primary in Iowa, these involve state and congressional nominations.

The extensive voting is not ex-

Alabama Judge Challenges U.S.

FBI Told To Keep Hands Off Poll Data

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—In a sweeping challenge of federal power, a state court judge has told the Justice Department to keep its hands off all voting records in Alabama.

Circuit Court Judge Walter B. Jones signed an injunction Monday to prevent federal agents from seeing any Alabama registration files in their hunt for evidence of anti-Negro discrimination.

Temporary restraining order, issued at the request of Alabama Atty. Gen. MacDonall Gallion and applying to all 67 counties, set the stage for a court test of the 1960 Civil Rights Act.

Gallion, challenging the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act, maintained that the Justice Department has tried to invade Alabama's sovereignty.

Under terms of the temporary order, federal authorities can appear before Jones July 7 and argue against a permanent injunction.

There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department.

U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers has asked for access to voter registration files in Montgomery, Wilcox and Sumter counties.

FBI agents got a brief look at the Sumter records Monday before the statewide decree clamped them shut. Solicitor Thomas H. Boggs said two FBI men left quietly after he informed them of the state action.

The restraining order resembles a decree issued earlier when Rogers asked to see Wilcox County's voting data.

Nicholas S. Hare, an assistant attorney general who filed the suit under Gallion's name, said it was just a coincidence that the order came on the same day Rogers asked to see the Montgomery and Sumter files.

Traffic Here Normal Again

The flow of traffic on Court St is back to normal today.

Driving became complicated yesterday when two coils on a traffic light switching motor burned. The incident caused seven lights from High St. to Corwin St. to stick on the yellow caution signal on all four sides.

The coils were repaired and the lights came back on for normal operation at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Sgt. Turney Ross took the burned coils to Columbus for repair. The control box, located at police headquarters, also was checked.

Truman Says He Refused OK To Spy Flights; Khrush Hit

CHICAGO (AP)—A robust Harry S. Truman, harking back to his seven years in the White House, says he and Secretary of State Dean Acheson turned down a suggestion that the United States send spy planes over Soviet territory.

"I didn't think it was right," he told newsmen Monday. "Espionage is a dirty business. I didn't want to be a part of it."

He said he and Acheson rejected the State Department idea in 1949 or 1950. Asked whether he made use of espionage information while president, Truman said, "I suppose so. Reports came to my desk about things that were going on."

But he refused to express an opinion on President Eisenhower's role in the U2 spy plane incident, and offered his sympathy to the White House in the face of recent Soviet tirades.

In Washington, Acheson said he had opposed use of spy planes over Soviet Russia and "advised that these flights should not be undertaken."

"I believed such flights would be contrary to the foreign policy of the United States," Acheson said.

Truman—76, ruddy and spry—soborly condemned the denunciations of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and chided unnamed Americans as he warned a large audience the world is "in serious trouble."

He told a gathering of book-sellers and publishers: "The brutal and boorish tirade by Khrushchev directed at the person of the President of the United States has the sinister purpose of undermining the prestige of the office of the president in the eyes of the world."

He called the Khrushchev blasts "Jews Admit Capture of Ex-Nazi Aide"

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Israeli government Monday night confirmed that a determined band of Jews tracked Adolf Eichmann to Argentina but insisted the ex-Gestapo official was not kidnapped. It said he agreed to go to Israel to stand trial.

An Israeli note to the Argentine government told of a relentless 15-year quest that spanned three continents and ended with a show-down in Buenos Aires. It claimed that a group of "Jewish volunteers" who caught up with Eichmann here and took him to Israel acted without the Israeli government's official knowledge.

The note expressed regret over any infringement of Argentine sovereignty but said the extraordinary nature of the case justified Eichmann's determination to bring him to trial on charges of complicity in the murder of six million Jews by the Hitler regime.

The note included the text of a letter it said Eichmann gave his captors stating that he was going to Israel of his own free will.

It said in part: "Since my true identity is known, I realize that it makes no sense to continue hiding from justice. I declare that I am disposed to travel to Israel to present myself there before a competent tribunal."

"I make this declaration by my own will. I have not been promised anything, nor have I been threatened."

Ike Winds Up Visit

Disarmament Talks Resume

Soviet Delegate Apes Khrushchev Tirades

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin opened a new round of East-West disarmament talks today with a blast against "aggressive circles" in the United States. He alleged the Paris summit meeting and sought to prevent peaceful coexistence.

"Aggressive forces continue to conduct their subversive actions against peace and the security of peoples and make even more urgent and imperative the solution of the disarmament problem," Zorin said.

A Western official said Zorin echoed earlier charges by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev—without Khrushchev's vehemence. U. S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton refused to be drawn into debate on the summit break-down.

"Our task here is to get on with the discussion of measures for disarmament, and I suggest we do this," he told Zorin.

Despite Zorin's remarks, British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore told newsmen the 10-nation conference resumed in a restrained and moderate atmosphere after its six-week recess.

Zorin presented and commented on the revised Soviet disarmament plan, announced by Khrushchev June 3.

Eaton said the U. S. government is subjecting the new Khrushchev plan to a serious and thorough analysis.

Western officials see little hope of agreement if the Soviets insist as rigidly on the main provisions of the new plan as they did on Khrushchev's first proposal.

The Soviets emphasized in their new version that they were adopting proposals advanced by other powers—notable France—that a beginning should be made in wiping out the means of delivering nuclear weapons.

U. S. officials expressed encouragement over apparent recognition by the Soviets of the need after disarmament for an international peace force, which the West insists is necessary. The Soviets hedged, however, by providing for control of such a force by the Security Council, where the big power veto operates.

The Western plan, cold-showered by the Soviets before the talks adjourned in April, called for carefully controlled disarmament in three gradual stages. A start toward nuclear disarmament would not be made until the second stage, after East-West parity in conventional arms was established and thorough supervision and safeguards against surprise attack were in operation.

Jury Finds Ohio Teamster Boss Guilty

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal jury today convicted William Presser, head of the 85,000-member Ohio Teamsters Council, of a charge of obstructing justice.

Sentence was delayed when his attorney announced he would file a motion for a new trial. The defendant impassively heard the jury of six men and six women polled to verify the verdict.

In a week-long trial the government presented evidence designed to show that the union official obstructed the work of the Senate Rackets Committee by tearing and mutilating an invoice contained in the records of Teamsters Joint Council 41, in Cleveland.

The records had been subpoenaed by the committee in September 1958.

Maximum penalty for the offense would be five years in jail or a $5,000 fine, or both.

Specifically, Presser was charged with tearing an invoice from a jewelry firm, with an attached "Christmas list," so that the names of recipients were missing.

The Christmas list was for eight silver champagne buckets, valued at about $100 each, and was dated December 1955.

One name on the list was that of George Bender, former Republican senator. In 1958 he had been appointed by the Teamsters Union to a commission to clean up corruption in the union.

Walter J. Sheridan, an investigator for the committee, testified at the trial that he was sent to Cleveland to look into any connection Bender might have with the union. He said he found the invoice, but when he returned for it later, it was mutilated.

Man Quits Lush Post To Enter Ministry

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—John H. Rudy, 36, father of three children from nearby Rothsville, says he has quit a $10,000-a-year job with the Radio Corporation of America to become a pastor of the Mennonite Church near Gettysburg, Pa. He will make $1,300 a year in his new post.

From the financial point of view it is foolish, but dealing with the spiritual needs of people is more important to me now," Rudy said Monday.

Japanese Sit-Down May Greet Ike

TOKYO (AP)—Radical students today threatened a sit-down strike on the runways of Tokyo's International Airport June 19 in an effort to block the arrival of President Eisenhower for a four-day state visit.

A spokesman for a pro-Communist faction of the Zengakuren student Federation said the runway sit-down might be employed "depending on the circumstances."

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi discussed the students' threat at a meeting with the national public safety and army directors and the labor minister. A spokesman said "strong action" would be taken if necessary, including barring all traffic from the airport before the President's arrival.

Kishi and Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama again adamantly rejected demands from the Socialist and Communist parties, the leftist students and leftist labor unions that Eisenhower's visit be cancelled or postponed as an expression of Japanese opposition to the new U.S. Japan military security treaty.

"I have no intention of changing the schedule of the President's visit," Kishi reportedly told a Cabinet meeting.

Fujiyama told a news conference any Japanese proposal to suspend Eisenhower's trip "would be a stain on our national honor."

He said it "would damage Japanese prestige all over the world."

Kishi also ordered the government and police forces to take steps to stonewall demonstrations before the U.S. Embassy. He appealed to newspaper publishers to support the government in its efforts to insure a friendly welcome for the President.

The students' federation said even if it did not stage the airport sit-down, it would bring out 50,000 members on June 19 to demonstrate at the airport and at the U.S. Embassy against Eisenhower's arrival.

The leftist labor federation Sohyo is planning to turn out more thousands wearing black mourning armbands and carrying black flags.

Kishi's Liberal - Democratic party majority in the lower house of Parliament pushed through ratification of the security treaty on May 20 after seven hours of violent physical clashes with the Socialists. The ratification automatically takes effect June 19, the day Eisenhower arrives, unless the upper house approves the treaty earlier or the Socialists can force dissolution of Parliament.

Herter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that despite demonstrations in Japan against the visit "under existing circumstances, the President's plans ought to remain unchanged."

Herter expressed this view in response to a question from Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). The secretary told the senators that he would prefer to make any further comment in a closed session.

Herter was before the committee to urge Senate ratification of the new U.S. - Japanese treaty which he said will strengthen the "fabric of international peace and security."

There have been leftist demonstrations in Japan against both Eisenhower's visit and the treaty, scheduled to take effect at the same time the President arrives.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said the open hearing on the treaty would be followed by a closed session on questions that were not proper for public discussion.

Herter told the committee at the open hearing that the old security treaty, signed immediately after the state of war with Japan was ended, gave the United States the right to station troops in Japan for maintenance of peace and security in the Far East. But there was no obligation on the United States to assist in Japan's defense, he said.

Under the new treaty the United States is pledged to go to Japan's defense if Japan is attacked.

Not all members of the senate group have joined in Fulbright's doubts as to the wisdom of Eisenhower's visiting Japan at this time.

Sen. George A. Aiken (R-Vt) took a different view. He said, in a separate interview, that only a minor percentage of the Japanese (Continued on Page 2)

U.S. Readies More Aid for Red Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is about to hand Poland another big economic aid package even though the Poles backed the Soviet Union in denouncing the U2 spy plane incident.

The State Department is going ahead with negotiations for shipments of more American wheat, cotton, fats and oils with every sign the deal will be successfully concluded in a few weeks.

Polish diplomats confidentially expect about 100 million dollars worth of such surplus commodities to help weather a continuing farm crisis aggravated by a prolonged drought.

To encourage Poland to rely less on Moscow, the United States has provided 296 million dollars worth of food, and economic help to the Warsaw regime over the last four years.

State Department officials declined to estimate how much aid might be involved in the newest agreement. Talks have been going on for five weeks. Barring an unforeseen blowup, these officials said they should wind up successfully.

Polish and American officials both appear determined not to allow Soviet-American tensions, heated up by the spy plane furor, to spoil the steady improvement in political and economic relations between Warsaw and Washington.

U.S. Eagle Labeled 'Blatant Monstrosity'

LONDON (AP)—A Laborite member of the House of Commons urged the Conservative government today to thumb down a 35-foot aluminum eagle planned for the front of the new U. S. Embassy building.

U. S. officials submitted the building design to the London County Council for approval.

Tokyo Leftists Are Ignored

Senate Urged To OK New Defense Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today President Eisenhower should go ahead with his plans to visit Japan June 19.

Herter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that despite demonstrations in Japan against the visit "under existing circumstances, the President's plans ought to remain unchanged."

Herter expressed this view in response to a question from Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). The secretary told the senators that he would prefer to make any further comment in a closed session.

Blonde, Negro Plan Raising Big Family

LONDON (AP)—Sammy Davis Jr. says he and blonde movie actress Mai Britt plan to raise a large family and he doesn't care if the children are "polka dot."

The 5-foot-6-inch Negro entertainer and the 5-foot-7 Swedish actress told a news conference Monday night they plan to marry after her divorce from American actor Eddie Gregson becomes final Sept. 28. Davis conceded some people won't approve of the interracial match.

"I'm liable to prejudice every time I walk out of the front door. But I'm not shaking in my shoes about my career. If it's so flimsy that it could be ruined by marriage, then it's not worth having."

Miss Britt is 24, Davis 34.

3 States Voting Today on Party Parley Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Voters today pick the bulk of some of the fastest delegations to the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

The nation's two most populous states, New York and California, have primaries.

At stake will be California's 81 votes and most of New York's 114 votes at the Democratic convention, and California's 70 votes and most of New York's 96 votes at the Republican convention.

One of the nation's least popular states, South Dakota also will have a primary vote for convention delegates.

Residents of three other states—
Idaho, Mississippi, and Montana—also vote in primaries today. But, like Monday's primary in Iowa, these involve state and congressional nominations.

The extensive voting is not expected to produce any significant change in the presidential nominating picture.

None of the Democratic delegates in California and South Dakota will be pledged officially to any of the party's leading candidates. Vice President Richard M.
Nixon will pick up the Republican delegates in both states.

New York's delegations will meet later to decide whom to support. Advance reports are that the Democrats will lean to Sen.
John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and the Republicans to governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

In Iowa Monday, Gov. Herschel Loveless, unopposed, won the Democratic nomination for senator. State Sen. Jack Miller and former State Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman were running neck and neck for the Republican nomination with four others behind.

Atty. Gen. Norman Erbe was leading in the race for the Republican nomination for governor. Lt.
Gov. E. J. McManus was leading for the Democratic nomination.

In California, the primary amounts to a popularity contest between Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Nixon is unopposed on the Republican ballot. Brown has minor opposition on the Democratic ballot.

A surprise element entered the campaign Monday when supporters of Rockefeller appealed for a silent vote. Since no write-ins are allowed, a "Citizens-for-Rockefeller" group urged Republicans to stay home.

The move coincided with the opening in New York of a "Draft Rockefeller" group. Its chairman, Jack Barnes, predicted that the governor's name would be placed in nomination at the national convention.

Rockefeller disassociated himself from Barnes' group. The governor also was reported to have told a closed meeting of some New York Republican leaders that he was not disloyal to the Republican party in not endorsing Nixon.

At South Fallsburg, N.Y., a participant in the meeting reported, Rockefeller said his stand was stimulating public interest in the party.

In New York, voters pick 86 delegates, each with one vote. Later, the party will name 56 more delegates, each with a half-vote.

Republican voters also pick 86 delegates. The party later will appoint 10 other delegates.

Both Michael Prendergast, state-Democratic chairman, and Carmine DeSapio, state national committeeman and leader of Tammany Hall, predicted the Democratic delegation would support Kennedy.

The Republicans are expected to back Rockefeller, who has said he would be available for a draft.
In South Dakota, Democrats will pick an unpledged 11-vote delegation and Republicans a 14-vote unpledged delegation.

The Democrats had been expected to support Sen. Hubert H.
Humphrey of Minnesota, but he withdrew from the race after losing to Kennedy in two primaries.
Although unpledged, the Republicans are expected to back Nixon.

In Montana, the interest centers on the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat now held by Sen.
James E. Murray, who is retiring.

Four Democrats are running, including Reps. Lee Metcalf and Leroy Anderson, who gave up their congressional seats to enter the contest.

Angered Doctor Held for Killing Former Associate

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)—An angered doctor took revenge for the loss of his job Monday by killing a former associate and firing several shots at his one-time senior partner.

Police said Dr. Anthony Ruvo-lo, 37, laid a shotgun ambush for two former partners several hours after he had been dismissed from the medical group they had formed.

He ran down his quarry in the parking lot of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, killing Dr. Annunzio La Face, 35. The head of the group, Dr. Francis Merlo, 51, jumped over a 5-foot wall and ducked into an entrance to the hospital as Ru-volo fired wildly at him several times.
Ruvo-
lo then threw aside his double-barreled shotgun and sped off in his sedan. A hospital employee noticed the license number and told police. They picked up Ruvo-lo 15 minutes later at a road block.
He was taken to headquarters for questioning and held on an open charge.

Alabama Judge Challenges U.S.

FBI Told To Keep Hands Off Poll Data

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—
In a sweeping challenge of federal power, a state court judge has told the Justice Department to keep its hands off all voting records in Alabama.

Circuit Court Judge Walter B.
Jones signed an injunction Monday to prevent federal agents from seeing any Alabama registration files in their hunt for evidence of anti-Negro discrimination.

Temporary restraining order, issued at the request of Alabama Atty. Gen. Macdonald Gallion and applying to all 67 counties, set the stage for a court test of the 1960 Civil Rights Act.

Gallion, challenging the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act, maintained that the Justice Department has tried to invade Alabama's sovereignty.

Under terms of the temporary order, federal authorities can appear before Jones July 7 and argue against a permanent injunction.

There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department.

U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers has asked for access to voter registration files in Montgomery, Wilcox and Sumter counties.

FBI agents got a brief look at the Sumter records Monday before the statewide decree clamped them shut. Solicitor Thomas H.
Boggs said two FBI men left quietly after he informed them of the state action.

The restraining order resembles a decree issued earlier when Rogers asked to see Wilcox County's voting data.

Nicholas S. Hare, an assistant attorney general who filed the suit under Gallion's name, said it was just a coincidence that the order came on the same day Rogers asked to see the Montgomery and Sumter files.

CHICAGO (AP)—A robust Harry S. Truman, harking back to his seven years in the White House, says he and Secretary of State Dean Acheson turned down a suggestion that the United States send spy planes over Soviet territory.

"I didn't think it was right," he told newsmen Monday. "Espionage is a dirty business. I didn't want to be a part of it."

He said he and Acheson rejected the State Department idea in 1949 or 1950. Asked whether he made use of espionage information while president, Truman said, "I suppose so. Reports came to my desk about things that were

But he refused to express an opinion on President Eisenhower's

and offered his sympathy to the

In Washington, Acheson said he had opposed use of spy planes over Soviet Russia and "advised that these flights should not be undertaken."

"I believed such flights would be contrary to the foreign policy said.

soborly cundded the denuncia-

He told a gathering of booksellers and publishers:
"The brutal and boorish tirade
by Khrushchev directed at the person of the President of the United States has the sinister purpose of undermining the prestige of the office of the president in the eyes
of the world."

He called the Khrushchev blasts
"an offense to the while free world."

He added, "My instinctive reaction would incline me to be sympathetic to the occupant of the White House when he is involved in a conflict with a foreign power and under personal attack by that power."

Truman suggested that "certain people would be wise to avoid criticizing our country in a manner and language that would fortify Khrushchev in the belief that there is approval here for his devilish campaign to divide us."

He would not name the "certain people."

But he refused to express an opinion on President Eisenhower's role in the U2 spy plane incident,

He told a gathering of book-
sellers and publishers:
"The brutal and boorish tirade
by Khrushchev directed at the person of the President of the United States has the sinister purpose of undermining the prestige of the office of the president in the eyes
of the world."

He called the Khrushchev blasts
"an offense to the while free

Disarmament Talks Resume

Soviet Delegate Apes
Khrushchev Tirades

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin opened a new round of East-West disarmament talks today with a blast against "aggressive circles" in the United States. He alleged these Americans sabotaged the Paris summit meeting and sought to prevent peaceful coexistence.

"Aggressive forces continue to conduct their subversive actions against peace and the security of peoples and make even more urgent and imperative the solution of the disarmament problem," Zorin said.

A Western official said Zorin echoed earlier charges by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — without Khrushchev's vehemence.
U. S. Ambassador Frederick M.
Eaton refused to be drawn into debate on the summit breakdown.

"Our task here is to get on with the discussion of measures for disarmament, and I suggest we do this," he told Zorin.

Despite Zorin's remarks, British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore told newsmen the 10-nation conference resumed in a restrained and moderate atmosphere after its six-week recess.

Zorin presented and commented on the revised Soviet disarmament plan, announced by Khrushchev June 3.

Eaton said the U. S. government is subjecting the new Khrushchev plan to a serious and thorough analysis.

Western officials see little hope of agreement if the Soviets insist as rigidly on the main provisions of the new plan as they did on Khrushchev's first proposal.

The Soviets emphasized in their new version that they were adopting proposals advanced by other powers—notable France—that a beginning should be made in wiping out the means of delivering nuclear weapons.

U. S. officials expressed encouragement over apparent recognition by the Soviets of the need after disarmament for an international peace force, which the Soviets insisted is necessary.

TOKYO (AP)—Radical students today threatened a sit-down strike on the runways of Tokyo's International Airport June 19 in an effort to block the arrival of President Eisenhower for a four-day state visit.

A spokesman for a pro-Communist faction of the Zengakuren student Federation said the runway sit-down might be employed "depending on the circumstances."

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi discussed the students' threat at a meeting with the national public safety and army directors and the labor minister. A spokesman said "strong action" would be taken if necessary, including barring all traffic from the airport before the President's arrival.

Kishi and Foreign Minister Ai-ichiro Fujiyama again adamantly rejected demands from the Socialist and Communist parties, the leftist students and leftist labor unions that Eisenhower's visit be cancelled or postponed as an expression of Japanese opposition to the new U. S.-Japan military security treaty.

"I have no intention of changing the schedule of the President's visit," Kishi reportedly told a Cabinet meeting.

Fujiyama told a news conference any Japanese proposal to suspend Eisenhower's trip "would be a stain on our national honor."
He said it "would damage Japanese prestige all over the world."

Kishi also ordered the government and police forces to take steps to stonewall demonstrations before the U. S. Embassy. He appealed to newspaper publishers to support the government in its efforts to insure a friendly welcome for the President.

The students' federation said even if it did not stage the airport sit-down, it would bring out 50,000 members on June 19 to demonstrate at the airport and at the U. S. Embassy against Eisenhower's arrival.

The leftist labor federation Sohyo is planning to turn out more thousands wearing black mourning armbands and carrying black flags.

Kishi's Liberal - Democratic party majority in the lower house of Parliament pushed through ratification of the security treaty on May 20 after seven hours of violent physical clashes with the Socialists. The ratification automatically takes effect June 19, the day Eisenhower arrives, unless the upper house approves the treaty earlier or the Socialists can force dissolution of Parliament.

Tokyo Leftists Are Ignored

Senate Urged To OK
New Defense Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today President Eisenhower should go ahead with his plans to visit Japan June 19.

Herter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that despite demonstrations in Japan against the visit "under existing circumstances, the President's plans ought to remain unchanged."

Herter expressed this view in response to a question from Sen.
Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).
The secretary told the senators that he would prefer to make any further comment in a closed session.

Herter was before the committee to urge Senate ratification of the new U. S. - Japanese treaty which he said will strengthen the "fabric of international peace and security."

There have been leftist demonstrations in Japan against both Eisenhower's visit and the treaty, scheduled to take effect at the same day the President arrives.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said the open hearing on the treaty would be followed by a closed session on questions that were not proper for public discussion.

Herter told the committee at the open hearing that the old security treaty, signed immediately after the state of war with Japan was ended, gave the United States the right to station troops in Japan for maintenance of peace and security in the Far East. But there was no obligation on the United States to assist in Japan's defense, he said.

Under the new treaty the United States is pledged to go to Japan's defense if Japan is attacked.

Not all members of the senate group have joined in Fulbright's doubts as to the wisdom of Eisenhower's visiting Japan at this time.

Sen. George A. Aiken (R-Vt.) took a different view. He said, in a separate interview, that only a minor percentage of the Japan-

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is about to hand Poland another big economic aid package even though the Poles backed the Soviet Union in denouncing the U2 spy plane incident.

The State Department is going ahead with negotiations for shipments of more American wheat, cotton, fats and oils with every sign the deal will be successfully concluded in a few weeks.

Polish diplomats confidentially expect about 100 million dollars worth of such surplus commodities to help weather a continuing farm crisis aggravated by a prolonged drought.

To encourage Poland to rely less on Moscow, the United States has provided 236 million dollars worth of food, and economic help to the Warsaw regime over the last four years.

State Department officials declined to estimate how much aid might be involved in the newest agreement. Talks have been going on for five weeks. Barring an unforeseen blowup, these officials said they should wind up successfully.

Polish and American officials both appear determined not to allow Soviet-American tensions, heated up by the spy plane furor, to spoil the steady improvement in political and economic relations between Warsaw and Washington.

U.S. Eagle Labeled 'Blatant Monstrosity'

LONDON (AP)—A Laborite member of the House of Commons urged the Conservative government today to thumb down a 35-foot aluminum eagle planned for the front of the new U. S.
Embassy building.

"It is not a good idea to install this blatant monstrosity in Grosvenor Square," said Marcus Lipton.

U. S. officials submitted the building design to the London County Council for approval.

$90,000 Suit Filed against Grain Firm

Two suits, totaling $90,000 were filed against the Pickaway Grain Co., W. Main St., and James W. Pontius, Route 1, Stoutsburg, Thursday in the Pickaway County Clerk of Courts' office.

The suits were filed by Douglas T. Vanhoose, Route 1, on behalf of his 16-year-old son, Keith. A damage suit in the amount of $75,000 and a medical expense suit, totaling $15,000 were filed.

Both suits are a result of a pickup truck and motorcycle accident June 11, 1959.

Scene of the mishap was the intersection of Lancaster Pike and Mingo St. According to Vanhoose's petition, young Keith was driving a motorcycle north on Mingo St.

THE petition said that as Vanhoose entered the intersection on the green light, a pickup truck, driven by Pontius, drove into the intersection from the Lancaster Pike and suddenly made a left turn onto Route 56, directly in front of Vanhoose.

Vanhoose claimed the turn was made without warning and caused his son to collide with the pickup. The petition cited the defendants for the following negligent acts:

Failure to yield the right-of-way; failure to keep outlook for oncoming traffic; turning without ascertaining that such movement could be made in reasonable safety to other users of the highway; and failure to keep truck under control.

Vanhoose claimed his son suffered serious injuries which left permanent scars to his left leg and will cause pain indefinitely. He stated his son is permanently disabled to a degree that his earning capacity will be impaired.

The $15,000 suit asked for $2,500 in medical expenses incurred to date, future medical expenses, money to cover future school expenses and funds to cover his son's loss of earnings.

Vanhoose is represented by the law firm of Schwenker, Teaford, Brothers and Bernard, Columbus.

Stock Mart Wheelhorses Riding High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market wheelhorses continued to ride high late this afternoon while glamour issues took a back seat. Trading was heavy.

Gains of fractions to more than 2 points were shown by investment quality issues. Market averages had recovered all losses up to late January. The Dow Jones industrial average smashed through a "formidable resistance area" in the 636-638 zone, according to analysts.

Some profit taking affected the resurgent steels as the session wore on. Motors, rails, and chemicals continued to forge gains.

Hopes of a summer rally were bolstered by reports of largest retail sales for autos since May 1955 and by reports of sharply reduced steel inventories.

Some substantial gains appeared among selected oils, rubbers, electrical equipments and building supply stocks.

Jones & Laughlin kept a gain of more than a point.

Chrysler rose 1 and Ford 2. DuPont and Eastman Kodak gained about 3 apiece. Ahead around a point were Allied Chemical, Air Reduction and American Cyanamid.

Texaco, up more than a point, paced a generally firm oil section. Kennecott and Illinois Central, up about a point, did well among the higher coppers and rails.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.33 to 642.45. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.40 to 229.20 with the industrials up 2.80, the rails up .90 and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds advanced. Governments declined slightly.

Ted Lewis Has Birthday

Circleville Mayor Ben H. Gordon last night telephoned birthday greetings to the city's No. 1 citizen, Ted Lewis.

Gordon said Lewis is playing in the Riviera Nite Club in Las Vegas where his engagement ends July 25. He said Ted was either 69 or 70 - years - of - age yesterday.

Lewis said another Circleville native and resident, James Sweetman, was visiting in Las Vegas. Ted said he introduced him during his performance.

According to reports, Sweetman recently was elected a representative of the Musicians Union out of Columbus. Sweetman has been a drummer for many years.

Gordon stated that Ted expected visits from his brothers, Edgar Freidman, Hollywood, Calif., and Milton Freidman, Columbus, next week. Ted sent his regards to city residents and said his health was good.

ese people are opposed to the treaty and a lesser percentage to the President's visit.

"I think the decision probably should be left to the Japanese government," Aiken said. "If the President doesn't go it will provide new propaganda fuel for (Soviet Premier Nikita) Khrushchev. I'm sure the Japanese government wouldn't want the President to come if they didn't have the situation in hand."

The Japanese government reiterated Monday there are no plans to postpone Eisenhower's visit.

Both Fulbright and Aiken said they know of no opposition to U.S. ratification of the treaty, which was signed here earlier this year. The pact, replacing one signed after World War II, is designed to give Japan added recognition as an equal rather than a conquered nation and to provide for mutual defense arrangements.

But Japanese Socialists and others have protested particularly a provision continuing U.S. bases on Japanese soil for at least 10 more years, although the present treaty permits them indefinitely. Student riots and other demonstrations have been staged in Japan.

Cash Box Is Taken At Elmwood Elevator

Columbus Logs Rapid Growth

Capital Tops All Ohio Metropolitan Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus and Franklin County formed the fastest-growing metropolitan center in Ohio during the 1950-60 decade, preliminary census figures show.

The capital city jumped 89,250 in population—from 375,901 to 465,151—figures indicate. That was a 19.1 per cent increase.

Franklin County experienced a population increase of 173,232 in the 10-year period from 503,410 in 1950 to 676,642 this year. That is a whopping 25.6 per cent increase.

The preliminary figures keep Columbus in third position in the state, but only slightly more than 22,000 behind second-place Cincinnati. Preliminary figures for the Queen City showed a population drop of 14,965 there, a total which is being hotly protested by Cincinnati officials.

Of the nine major Ohio cities, only Columbus, Toledo, Akron, Dayton and Springfield show population increases. Akron was up 4.5, Toledo 3.9, Dayton 4.9 and Springfield 4.3.

Cleveland recorded a drop of 4.7, Cincinnati 3.0, Youngstown 1.6 and Canton 3.5.

All nine metropolitan counties, however, recorded substantial population increases. Montgomery County, with a preliminary figure of 520,516, replaces Summit County as the state's fourth most populous. Summit County's preliminary figure is 509,403. The percentage increase for Montgomery County is 23.4 and for Summit County 19.5.

Close behind in percentage increase is Cuyahoga County, Ohio's most populous, with a jump of 18.2 for a new total of 1,642,439.

The preliminary picture by cities and counties:

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Ohio weather today is under the control of a large mass of dry cool air which extends from Hudson Bay Canada southward almost to the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures over Ohio this morning were well below normal. Zanesville reported 44 degrees, Belleaire and Akron 46, Columbus 49 and Youngstown 48.

Fair weather is expected through Wednesday. Afternoon temperatures today will be generally in the 70s but slightly higher readings are expected Wednesday afternoon.

A high pressure area is blocking any northward movement of moisture from the Gulf so rain seems unlikely until later in the week over Ohio.

Retired Actor-Missionary Recalls His Amazing Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gareth Hughes now has time to reflect on an amazing career that extended from the bright lights of London, Broadway and Hollywood to the bitter cold and searing summers of Nevada.

During his lifetime, Hughes knew two careers. In his youth, he was a superbly handsome actor on the stage and in silent films. In later years, he served under primitive conditions as a lay missionary among the Piute Indians of northern Nevada.

County Motor Vehicle Sales Remain High

May matched April in new motor vehicle sales as 150 were sold to Pickaway County residents, according to the County Clerk of Courts' title department.

May tied April for record number of new vehicles sold during 1960. Of this total were 120 automobiles, 13 trucks, 11 station wagons and six house trailers.

Cars sold jumped 12 over April, while trucks dipped three and station wagons dropped six. House trailers showed a two decrease during the previous month.

A total of 1,080 motor vehicles, both new and used, changed hands during May, 56 less than in April.

AUTOMOTIVE mortgages and liens totaled 479 or 54 less than April. Cancellations of mortgages and liens numbered 355 for a dip of 93 from April.

Chevrolet took over first place in new motor vehicle sales last month with a total of 38 sold, displacing Ford for the first time in nine months.

Ford sales numbered 30 to third place. Pontiac's 15. In fourth slot came Oldsmobile with 11 while Buick and Dodge tied for fifth with eight sold. Plymouth was seventh with seven sales.

Other models sold included house trailers, six; Mercury and Rambler, five; Comet and Cadillac, four; Studebaker and International, two; and Foyapet, Volvo, Valiant and Triumph, one each.

Sales by county firms were Kenny Hannan Ford, 26; Harden Chevrolet, 17; Heywood Mercer Chevrolet, 11; Christopher Pontiac, 8; Clifton Motor Sales, Inc., 10 Oldsmobiles and three Cadillacs; Yates Motor Co., seven Buicks and five Ramblers.

Wes Edstrom Motors, three Dodges; Joe Moats Motor Co., five Plymouths and two Studebakers; Circleville Motors, four Mercurys and three Comets; Harmon Schelb, one International truck and Circleville Mobile Home Sales, one house trailer.

State Auditor Says Spending Tops Receipts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state spent almost 1 1/2 billion dollars in the 11-month period ended May 31, State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced Monday. The exact figure was $1,476,021,705.89. This was $5,142,578.31 more than over-all revenues, which totaled $1,470,879,127.58.

Social Security Office Needs New Addresses

"Persons receiving social security benefits can save themselves a great deal of inconvenience if they report promptly when they change their address," according to E. H. Biedenholz, manager of the Chillicothe Social Security Office.

Our country is on the move; the latest figures show that one out of every five families will relocate at some time each year. Many of these are folks who are getting social security benefits.

If you are getting benefits, you can assure prompt delivery of your monthly checks by reporting a change of address as soon as you move. Pre-addressed postcard forms are furnished to each social security applicant. This card may be completed to make the change.

If you have misplaced the card, a signed note or a postcard to the nearest social security office, showing your name, social security number and your new address will do.

YOU MAY, of course, call at any social security office and fill out a change of address form if it is more convenient. Telephone calls will not do for changing an address.

The Social Security Administration is only interested in addresses of those who are getting benefits — so if you are not getting monthly checks, do not send a notice of change of address.

On all correspondence to the Social Security Administration, your social security number should be shown. The social security office for residents of Pickaway County is located at 32 W. Main St., Chillicothe.

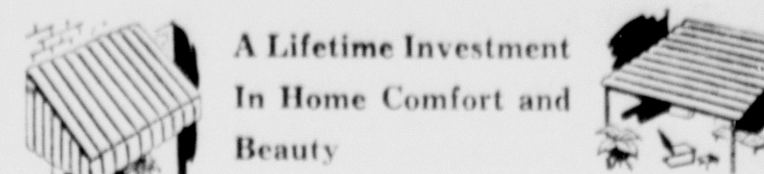

Brown Calls for Strict Checkup on Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stricter checks of expenses of members of traveling congressional committees "will be in order from now on," says Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio). The Blanchester (Clinton County) representative was referring to charges made in a series of newspaper articles on expense accounts of House members. In a letter to constituents Monday, Brown said he is "not involved."

Columbus Logs Rapid Growth

Capital Tops All Ohio Metropolitan Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus and Franklin County formed the fastest-growing metropolitan center in Ohio during the 1950-60 decade, preliminary census figures show.

The capital city jumped 89,250 in population—from 375,901 to 465,151—figures indicate. That was a 19.1 per cent increase.

Franklin County experienced a population increase of 173,232 in the 10-year period from 503,410 in 1950 to 676,642 this year. That is a whopping 25.6 per cent increase.

The preliminary figures keep Columbus in third position in the state, but only slightly more than 22,000 behind second-place Cincinnati. Preliminary figures for the Queen City showed a population drop of 14,965 there, a total which is being hotly protested by Cincinnati officials.

Of the nine major Ohio cities, only Columbus, Toledo, Akron, Dayton and Springfield show population increases. Akron was up 4.5, Toledo 3.9, Dayton 4.9 and Springfield 4.3.

Cleveland recorded a drop of 4.7, Cincinnati 3.0, Youngstown 1.6 and Canton 3.5.

All nine metropolitan counties, however, recorded substantial population increases. Montgomery County, with a preliminary figure of 520,516, replaces Summit County as the state's fourth most populous. Summit County's preliminary figure is 509,403. The percentage increase for Montgomery County is 23.4 and for Summit County 19.5.

Close behind in percentage increase is Cuyahoga County, Ohio's most populous, with a jump of 18.2 for a new total of 1,042,439.

The preliminary picture by cities and counties:

CITY-COUNTY	1950	1960
Cleveland	914,808	871,415
Cuyahoga	1,389,532	1,642,439

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Ohio weather today is under the control of a large mass of dry cool air which extends from Hudson Bay Canada southward almost to the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures over Ohio this morning were well below normal. Zanesville reported 44 degrees, Belleaire and Akron 46, Columbus 49 and Youngstown 48.

Fair weather is expected through Wednesday. Afternoon temperatures today will be generally in the 70s but slightly higher readings are expected Wednesday afternoon.

A high pressure area is blocking any northward movement of moisture from the Gulf so rain seems unlikely until later in the week over Ohio.

Retired Actor-Missionary Recalls His Amazing Career

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gareth Hughes now has time to reflect on an amazing career that extended from the bright lights of London, Broadway and Hollywood to the bitter cold and searing summers of Nevada.

During his lifetime, Hughes knew two careers. In his youth, he was a superbly handsome actor on the stage and in silent films. In later years, he served under primitive conditions as a lay missionary among the Piute Indians of northern Nevada.

County Motor Vehicle Sales Remain High

May matched April in new motor vehicle sales as 150 were sold to Pickaway County residents, according to the County Clerk of Courts' title department.

May tied April for record number of new vehicles sold during 1960. Of this total were 120 automobiles, 13 trucks, 11 station wagons and six house trailers.

Cars sold jumped 12 over April, while trucks dipped three and station wagons dropped six. House trailers showed a two decrease during the previous month.

A total of 1,080 motor vehicles, both new and used, changed hands during May, 56 less than in April.

AUTOMOTIVE mortgages and liens totaled 479 or 54 less than April. Cancellations of mortgages and liens numbered 355 for a dip of 93 from April.

Chevrolet took over first place in new motor vehicle sales last month with a total of 38 sold, displacing Ford for the first time in nine months.

Ford sales numbered 30 to third place Pontiac's 15. In fourth slot came Oldsmobile with 11 while Buick and Dodge tied for fifth with eight sold. Plymouth was seventh with seven sales.

Other models sold included house trailers, six; Mercury and Rambler, 5; Comet and Cadillac, 4; Studebaker and International, 2; and Foyapet, Volvo, Valiant and Triumph, one each.

Sales by county firms were Kenny Hannan Ford, 26; Harden Chevrolet, 17; Heywood Mercer Chevrolet, 11; Christopher Pontiac, 8; Clifton Motor Sales, Inc., 10 Oldsmobiles and three Cadillacs; Yates Motor Co., seven Buicks and five Ramblers.

Wes Edstrom Motors, three Dodges; Joe Moats Motor Co., five Plymouths and two Studebakers; Circleville Motors, four Mercurys and three Comets; Harmon Schelb, one International truck and Circleville Mobile Home Sales, one house trailer.

State Auditor Says Spending Tops Receipts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state spent almost 1½ billion dollars in the 11-month period ended May 31, State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced Monday. The exact figure was $1,476,021,705.89. This was $5,142,578.31 more than over-all revenues, which totaled $1,470,879,127.58.

He had to give up his missionary work because of ill health. Now at 66 he's getting the first real rest in his life at the Motion Picture Country Home in Woodland Hills. He has a comfortable room filled with mementoes of his varied life.

There are photos of himself in screen roles such as "Sentimental Tommy"—he was James Barrie's personal choice to play the part.

But mostly there were Indian art objects and church goods that harked back to his 15 years as a missionary.

"Those were the best years of my life," he reflected. "My years as an actor were exciting. But the acting life is one of selfishness. Working with the Indians was a life of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation. It was far more satisfying."

Hughes, born in Llanelly, Wales, came to this country with the Welsh players. The troupe flopped, but he stayed on.

In 1919, Hughes came to Hollywood. For 10 years, he played in such films as "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Forget Me Not." He did only one talkie, then returned to the stage.

"I was never the kind of actor who could smell money," he admitted. "I made some money, but I also spent it."

During the '30s, he worked in the Federal Theater Project. With a last fling as Shylock at the Hollywood Playhouse and the University of Michigan, "I finally hung up my acting robes; I had had enough."

In 1942, he answered the call for a lay missionary and found himself quartered in the remains of an old fort. Temperatures ranged from 20 below in winter to 120 in summer. Hughes covered over 200 miles of desert land between reservations, making the journey by jeep for christenings, burials, etc.

"I don't think I could have done my work if I hadn't been an actor," he remarked. "I needed that experience to act out my little scriptural messages so my Indians would understand them. So you see, everything works out according to God's will."

Civilization a Drain on Wildlife

Conservationists once were worried that the North American bison, otherwise known as the buffalo, was becoming extinct. Great numbers of the beasts were killed during the nineteenth century for skins, food and sport. Although now largely contained on government protected lands, the bison has recovered to the point where its herds are deliberately thinned by hunters.

If the good fortune of the bison is an indication of the power of aroused public demands for conservation, other wildlife is in need of publicity. Conservationists estimate 50 species of wildlife which formerly roamed this land in plentiful numbers are now dangerously close to annihilation. Civilization has a way of disrupting the most elementary natural environments to the point that they are no longer capable of sustaining the lower animal kingdoms.

Many species of mammals, reptiles and birds have been irretrievably lost to this generation and all future peoples. History does not record all the creatures which once inhabited the very spots now supporting large cities, lakes or farms. Nothing can be done to bring back these denizens, but the ranks of other inhabitants of earth seems destined to diminish as the human population grows unless a concentrated effort is made to provide sanctuaries.

Is it worthwhile preserving the flamingo, the gray wolf, the walrus, the coyote, the red-bellied hawk, the Florida sandhill crane, the grizzly bear, the California condor or even the national bird, the bald eagle? These are but a few of the more renowned American creatures which once were included among the most plentiful, but are now only a few steps from extinction. The woodland caribou, the wolverine, the Sierra bighorn sheep, the great white heron, the lake sturgeon and the lake trout are a few other species facing decimation and finally annihilation.

While the nation debates whether it wants to protect its natural assets, time continues to take its toll. The heath hen, Carolina parakeet, Labrador duck, passenger pigeon, Merriam elk and great auk have all become extinct since the turn of the present century. Several others, including the Eskimo curlew and ivory-billed woodpecker, have not been sighted for years and are presumed extinct.

A denial to future generations of the varied, picturesque and useful company of so much of the original fauna of this land is an inexcusable demonstration of selfishness. Conservation may fail in a few cases, but it has been markedly successful in the two instances of wildlife preservation in which it was employed on a great scale.

Both the bison and the trumpeter swan were rescued from the threat of extinction only by the action of a few individuals who thought this land would be poorer in losing two of its most celebrated and colorful occupants.

He Lives by Paragraphs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Curious citizens who plumped down two pennies 80 years ago for the first copy of the Kansas City Star were fascinated by an editorial page column of unusual paragraphs.

Sample items:
"Modjeska is fond of onions."
"Garfield's cousin is in the Indiana penitentiary."
"A Colorado girl has lost her leg, and her gallant lover had a pocketbook made of a piece of tanned skin from the amputated part."

The newspaper founded by robust-minded, barrel-bodied William Rockhill Nelson on Sept. 18, 1880—he imported kegs of pennies into the coin-short city to spur sales—has grown into one of America's top journals.

And that column of peppery paragraphs now known as "Starbeams" has won renown as perhaps the oldest continuous feature of its sort in the history of American daily journalism.

Even ex-city editor Charley Blood, still active at 90, isn't sure just how many men during the past eight decades have captioned the "Starbeams" corner. But none has widened its fame further or faster than its present custodian, Bill Vaughan.

Vaughan is 44, tall, slender, and wears dark-rimmed glasses. He looks a lot like Cary Grant on a diet.

A former reporter, he inherited his present post 14 years ago from the late Clad (Pip) Thompson, who held the job 35 years. Since 1946, Vaughan estimates, he has written some 75,000 paragraphs. His output is now distributed to some 95 U.S. newspapers under the pseudonym of "Senator Soaper."

This work, he finds, is hard on his mind, his pants, and swivel chair.

"But I enjoy it," he added. "American newspaper readers have always enjoyed clever paragraphing that sums up crisply the foibles of their day. It's almost a separate American art form."

Its past practitioners range from Ben Franklin to Josh Billings, Kin Hubbard, Bert Leston Taylor, Will Rogers, Franklin P. Adams and Harry Wade, retired editor of the Detroit News, to whose encouragement and example Vaughan feels a debt he is glad to acknowledge.

Vaughan himself has few, if any, peers as a one-paragraph

Boswell of the passing scene. He needs pomposity and pretense, but he writes with a mellow warmth and understanding that have no room for bitterness.

"I don't know much about people," he said, "but I've always had good luck with them."

Bill was born on the second floor of a St. Louis pharmacy, and he is founder of the Society of People Who Were Born Over a Store.

Here are a few recent paragraphs that show the flavor of his humor:

"On the bus the other morning were two worried fathers. One didn't know where his kids went on Saturday nights, and the other one did."

"An acquaintance who lives near an airport says that the jets no longer bother him, now that the power lawnmowers have drowned them out."

"When it comes to buying happiness, says the man at the next desk, 'poverty isn't a bit better than money.'"

Student Riots Contagious

It is nothing new for students to get excited and make demonstrations. Sometimes, they are serious; at other times, they amount to just fun. The Korean student demonstrations ultimately forced out Dr. Syngman Rhee after his long tenure as President of Korea. The students strike in Turkey has forced upon that country a change of government; the socialist students strike in Japan is still running its course and what may come of it is not at all clear.

The greatest demonstration of students occurred in China in 1919. It changed the course of Chinese history. I was closely associated with it and can speak of it intimately. Starting in Peking and Shanghai simultaneously and independently, the students, inspired by patriotism, objected to China signing the Paris Treaty because of the unfair Shantung clauses. China did not sign. But until the Chinese government made up its mind, the students had succeeded in closing down an entire nation. Not a school, factory, shop, or restaurant was open. Even the prostitutes and sing-song girls went on strike. It was spontaneous and total. Out of this movement grew the Chinese Communist Party which today is in control of Mainland China.

The recent San Francisco demonstrations, organized by students of the University of California, are particularly significant. It was a mass strike against the House Committee on

Un-American Activities and the attack was on the City Hall. It was repelled by the police and fire departments. These university students, perhaps as many as 400, were not all Communists, but the leadership was Communist and the main attack in the university itself has been upon the FBI and the ROTC. It is to be pointed out that much of this anti-American influence has flowed over into Stanford University.

One of the principal students called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities was Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore at the University of California. Douglas is a second generation Communist, his parents having been professional Communists for more than 20 years. His mother is the organizer of the Communist Party in the East Bay Region of Northern California. Douglas Wachter was student body president of the Berkeley High School and is a Communist youth leader in the West. He attended the National Convention of the Communist Party at New York in December 1959 as an official delegate from Northern California.

Although the University of California students demonstrated against a duly constituted Committee of the Congress of the United States, President John D. Goheen, of the Stanford University Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, transmitted a letter to the Attorney General of California which stated:

"... Without any judgment concerning the innocence or guilt of these individuals, it is clear that great dangers to effective education are inherent in the hearing itself."

Precisely what dangers to education are imputed in the Goheen letter, do not appear. It is interesting to note that the general university protest was against the existence of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Canon Richard Byfield of Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, said:

"We wait for a time when the right, the left and the center can react on one another to maintain a free society in which we all believe."

Precisely what this means, it is difficult to say. What does the word "react" mean in this context? Does it mean that students are to be permitted to form mobs to create wild disorder? Is this what the word, react, means?

Assemblyman John A. O'Connell of San Francisco said:

"I do believe a Communist has a right to hold his political view and to say it aloud in public just as I am talking here. This very meeting is a graphic example of what it means to a free American."

In these days when communications are so swift, student riots are contagious. When they appear in one country, they spread to other countries. They become a weapon in the hands of Communists who seek to undermine existing governments. It is interesting to note that Harry Bridges and Archie Brown—leading Left-Wingers—appeared in the San Francisco fracas, but only Archie Brown played any role in it. He had to be thrown out of the hearings and photographs were taken of him in excited protest. Apparently, the fire hose doused the excitement.

Son Beams as Family Automobile Is Smashed

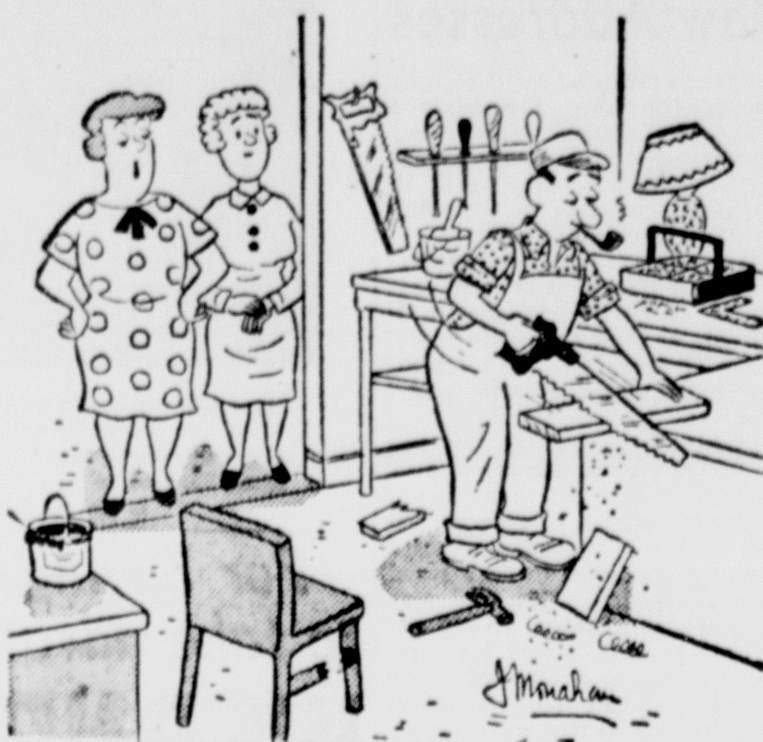

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — "Well, I wrecked it," beamed Richard Bevens as his parents helped him from the family car, smashed against a house after bouncing off a telephone pole. Richard is 2½.

He had disappeared a few minutes earlier, but Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bevens soon found their little boy. They heard the crash a block away. They left the keys in the car.

Richard has boasted he knew how to drive the car.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PUDGY OLD DUFFER had run up exactly 44 strokes negotiating the first four holes of a relatively easy golf course, and mopped his brow in utter frustration. "I must admit," he explained to his caddy, "that I'm not playing the game I usually play this morning." The knowing caddy nodded and asked softly, "What game is that, sir?"

George Orwell, author of "1984" and "The Animal Farm," noted that "autobiography is only to be trusted when it reveals something disgraceful. A man who gives a good account of himself is probably lying, since any life, when viewed from the inside, is simply a series of defeats."

"I can understand your flirting with a lively French girl," mused one Tulane student to another, "but why are you so determined to marry one?" "Well," replied the other thoughtfully, "for one thing, my mother-in-law will be living in Paris."

TV Affects Child's Rest

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Children remember things that impress them much longer than adults do. While something may be quickly forgotten by us older folks, the kids may take it much more seriously.

For this reason I strongly urge strict parental censorship of television programs which the kids are permitted to watch immediately before bedtime.

I have repeatedly stressed the importance of giving the kids a chance of calm down before they hit the hay. There should be no exciting TV programs, either.

Television is a wonderful entertainment media—but it must be used wisely. Studies have determined that even a mildly exciting program can disturb a youngster's sleep.

Naturally, the more blood and thunder the program or motion picture contains, the more it disturbs a child who watches it.

I don't mean that this is apt to disturb a child's sleep only for the period immediately following viewing or such a program. Often the disturbing effect continues for a much longer period, perhaps as long as three weeks or so.

A comedy program or a romantic movie is appropriate bill of fare just before bedtime, although I don't expect the kids will sit still long for that love-and-kisses stuff.

Most of the newspapers publish daily listings of TV programs. Look them over and choose the programs yourself instead of leaving it up to your children.

It isn't a merely a matter of turning the set off and arbitrarily declaring:

"You can't watch any TV programs before you go to bed."

This won't give satisfactory results; at least, it won't for school-age children.

Your kids have to know what is going on in the TV entertainment world to keep up with their set just as much as you have to know what is going on in the political world in order to keep pace with your If your youngster never sees the shows the other kids talk about he will grow to resent your censorship.

Occasionally, it is all right to permit your child to stay up a little later than usual to see a program he especially wants to view. But don't make an everyday practice of it.

Question and Answer
Mrs. A. L.: I have a friend who thinks she may have diabetes but does not go for tests.

How dangerous is it for her to neglect having tests?

Answer: Untreated and uncontrolled diabetes will eventually result in hardening of the arteries which may produce heart disease, blindness, gangrene and other complications.

In severe cases, coma and death may rapidly occur.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is just the latest in a long list of people denounced by Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier calls names like a fishwife over a back fence. The older he gets, the fishier he sounds.

Over the past few years the Soviet leader has run up quite a record, particularly against people with whom he had had some friendly personal relations.

In 1956 he visited Britain, dined with the British Laborites, was asked by them to free 200 imprisoned Social Democrats in eastern Europe, and returned home to denounce them as the lackeys of reactionaries.

That same year at a Moscow banquet attended by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U.S. Air Force chief, Khrushchev reportedly drank heavily, insulted various Western military officials present, and was told by the then premier, Nikolai Bulganin, to shut up.

That was quite a year for Khrushchev. He shocked the world and shook international communism to its roots by denouncing his late boss, Joseph Stalin. He described Stalin as a murderer.

In 1957 he got rid of a whole batch of his old Communist cronies — the Molotov-Malenkov-Kaganovich set — by getting them bounced from the Presidium and into oblivion.

The next year, 1958, he gave his old traveling companion, Premier Bulganin, the ax and took his job.

He visited Marshal Tito seemed to get along dandy with him and in the end excommunicated him as a "renegade."

In between times he belittled Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and gave Sen. Hubert H. an 8-hour interview in the Kremlin.

Early in 1959 Humphrey reporting on that visit said Khrushchev had been critical of Red China the Soviets' big ally for its communist system.

As Humphrey said later this must have touched a sensitive nerve. Khrushchev denounced Humphrey.

The Soviet Premier put on a real show when he visited the United States in 1959 particularly at Los Angeles.

There he complained about the security arrangements which for his own safety kept him out of Disneyland; took offense at a movie can-can dance which he said was immoral; and in one grand temper tantrum threatened to go home because Mayor Norris Poulson made a crack about an earlier Khrushchev crack that communism would bury the West.

Then came 1960 the U2 spy plane flight over the Soviet Union. Khrushchev's wreckage of the summit which he blamed on Eisenhower. He denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

His worst insults were reserved for Eisenhower and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Eisenhower, Khrushchev said, was "weak-kneed" fit only to run a children's home and "completely lacking in will-power."

As for the German chancellor Khrushchev called him a nut who ought to be "straitjacketed in a lunatic asylum."

ALL THIS, AND A BACHELOR (OF ARTS)—Alan Morse finally gets his cap and gown on to receive his bachelor of arts in advertising design at Durfee college, Fall River, Mass., in spite of two sets of twins and a daughter. He holds the newest twins, 8-week-old Todd and Kimberly. The others are 19-month-old Drew and Dale. Daughter Cathlyn, beside Mrs. Morse, is 4 years old.

U.S. SPY EQUIPMENT—This photo of alleged U.S. spy equipment appeared in the Soviet newspaper "Soviet Russia" on the same day Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge were arguing the U-2 case in the UN. It was headlined: "Criminal Policy Raised to the Rank of Law—The History of American Espionage." And there was a whole page of history.

Civilization a Drain on Wildlife

Conservationists once were worried that the North American bison, otherwise known as the buffalo, was becoming extinct. Great numbers of the beasts were killed during the nineteenth century for skins, food and sport. Although now largely contained on government protected lands, the bison has recovered to the point where its herds are deliberately thinned by hunters.

If the good fortune of the bison is an indication of the power of aroused public demands for conservation, other wildlife is in need of publicity. Conservationists estimate 50 species of wildlife which formerly roamed this land in plentiful numbers are now dangerously close to annihilation. Civilization has a way of disrupting the most elementary natural environments to the point that they are no longer capable of sustaining the lower animal kingdoms.

Many species of mammals, reptiles and birds have been irrevocably lost to this generation and all future peoples. History does not record all the creatures which once inhabited the very spots now supporting large cities, lakes or farms. Nothing can be done to bring back these denizens, but the ranks of other inhabitants of earth seems destined to diminish as the human population grows unless a concentrated effort is made to provide sanctuaries.

Is it worthwhile preserving the flamingo, the gray wolf, the walrus, the coyote, the red-bellied hawk, the Florida sandhill crane, the grizzly bear, the California condor or even the national bird, the bald eagle? These are but a few of the more renowned American creatures which once were included among the most plentiful, but are now only a few steps from extinction. The woodland caribou, the wolverine, the Sierra bighorn sheep, the great white heron, the lake sturgeon and the lake trout are a few other species facing decimation and finally annihilation.

While the nation debates whether it wants to protect its natural assets, time continues to take its toll. The heath hen, Carolina parakeet, Labrador duck, passenger pigeon, Merriam elk and great auk have all become extinct since the turn of the present century. Several others, including the Eskimo curlew and ivory-billed woodpecker, have not been sighted for years and are presumed extinct.

A denial to future generations of the varied, picturesque and useful company of so much of the original fauna of this land is an inexcusable demonstration of selfishness. Conservation may fail in a few cases, but it has been markedly successful in the two instances of wildlife preservation in which it was employed on a great scale.

Both the bison and the trumpeter swan were rescued from the threat of extinction only by the action of a few individuals who thought this land would be the poorer in losing two of its most celebrated and colorful occupants.

further or faster than its present custodian, Bill Vaughan.

Vaughan is 44, tall, slender, and wears dark-rimmed glasses. He looks a lot like Cary Grant on a diet.

A former reporter, he inherited his present post 14 years ago from the late Clad (Pip) Thompson, who held the job 35 years. Since 1946, Vaughan estimates, he has written some 75,000 paragraphs. His output is now distributed to some 26 U.S. newspapers under the pseudonym of "Senator Soaper."

This work, he finds, is hard on his mind, his pants, and swivel chair.

Its past practitioners range from Ben Franklin to Josh Billings, Kin Hubbard, Bert Leston Taylor, Will Rogers, Franklin P. Adams and Harry Wade, retired editor of the Detroit News, to whose encouragement and example Vaughan feels a debt he is glad to acknowledge.

Vaughan himself has few, if any, peers as a one-paragraph Boswell of the passing scene. He needles pomposity and pretense, but he writes with a mellow warmth and understanding that have no room for bitterness.

"I don't know much about people," he said, "but I've always had good luck with them."

Bill was born on the second floor of a St. Louis pharmacy, and he is founder of the Society of People Who Were Born Over a Store.

Here are a few recent paragraphs that show the flavor of his humor:

"On the bus the other morning were two worried fathers. One didn't know where his kids went on Saturday nights, and the other one did."

By BENNETT CERF

A PUDGY OLD DUFFER had run up exactly 44 strokes negotiating the first four holes of a relatively easy golf course, and mopped his brow in utter frustration. "I must admit," he explained to his caddy, "that I'm not playing the game I usually play this morning." The knowing caddy nodded and asked softly, "What game is that, sir?"

George Orwell, author of "1984" and "The Animal Farm," noted that "autobiography is only to be trusted when it reveals something disgraceful. A man who gives a good account of himself is probably lying, since any life, when viewed from the inside, is simply a series of defeats."

"I can understand your flirting with a lively French girl," mused one Tulane student to another, "but why are you so determined to marry one?" "Well," replied the other thoughtfully, "for one thing, my mother-in-law will be living in Paris."

TV Affects Child's Rest

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D. Children remember things that impress them much longer than adults do. While something may be quickly forgotten by us older folks, the kids may take it much more seriously.

For this reason I strongly urge strict parental censorship of television programs which the kids are permitted to watch immediately before bedtime.

I have repeatedly stressed the importance of giving the kids a chance of calm down before they hit the hay. There should be no exciting TV programs, either.

Television is a wonderful entertainment media—but it must be used wisely. Studies have determined that even a mildly exciting program can disturb a youngster's sleep.

Naturally, the more blood and thunder the program or motion picture contains, the more it disturbs a child who watches it.

I don't mean that this is apt to disturb a child's sleep only for the period immediately following viewing or such a program. Often the disturbing effect continues for a much longer period, perhaps as long as three weeks or so.

A comedy program or a romantic movie is appropriate bill of fare just before bedtime, although I don't expect the kids will sit still long for that love-and-kisses stuff.

Most of the newspapers publish daily listings of TV programs. Look them over and choose the programs yourself instead of leaving it up to your children.

It isn't a merely a matter of turning the set off and arbitrarily declaring:

This won't give satisfactory results; at least, it won't for school-age children.

Your kids have to know what is going on in the TV entertainment world to keep up with their set just as much as you have to know what is going on in the political world in order to keep pace with your If your youngster never sees the shows the other kids talk about he will grow to resent your censorship.

Occasionally, it is all right to permit your child to stay up a little later than usual to see a program he especially wants to view. But

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is just the latest in a long list of people denounced by Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier calls names like a fishwife over a back fence. The older he gets, the fishier he sounds.

Over the past few years the Soviet leader has run up quite a record, particularly against people with whom he had had some friendly personal relations.

In 1956 he visited Britain, dined with the British Laborites, was asked by them to free 200 imprisoned Social Democrats in eastern Europe, and returned home to denounce them as the lackeys of reactionaries.

That same year at a Moscow banquet attended by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U.S. Air Force chief, Khrushchev reportedly drank heavily, insulted various Western military officials present, and was told by the then premier, Nikolai Bulganin, to shut up.

That was quite a year for Khrushchev. He shocked the world and shook international communism to its roots by denouncing his late boss, Joseph Stalin. He described Stalin as a murderer.

In 1957 he got rid of a whole batch of his old Communist cronies — the Molotov-Malenkov-Kaganovich set — by getting them bounced from the Presidium and into oblivion.

The next year, 1958, he gave his old traveling companion, Premier Bulganin, the ax and took his job.

He visited Marshal Tito seemed to get along dandy with him and in the end excommunicated him as a "renegade."

In between times he belittled Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and gave Sen. Hubert H. an 8-hour interview in the Kremlin.

Early in 1959 Humphrey reporting on that visit said Khrushchev had been critical of Red China the Soviets' big ally for its commune system.

By James Marlow

As Humphrey said later this must have touched a sensitive nerve. Khrushchev denounced Humphrey.

The Soviet Premier put on a real show when he visited the United States in 1959 particularly at Los Angeles.

There he complained about the security arrangements which for his own safety kept him out of Disneyland; took offense at a movie can-can dance which he said was immoral; and in one grand temper tantrum threatened to go home because Mayor Norris Poulson made a crack about an earlier Khrushchev crack that communism would bury the West.

Then came 1960 the U2 spy plane flight over the Soviet Union. Khrushchev's wreckage of the summit which he blamed on Eisenhower. He denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

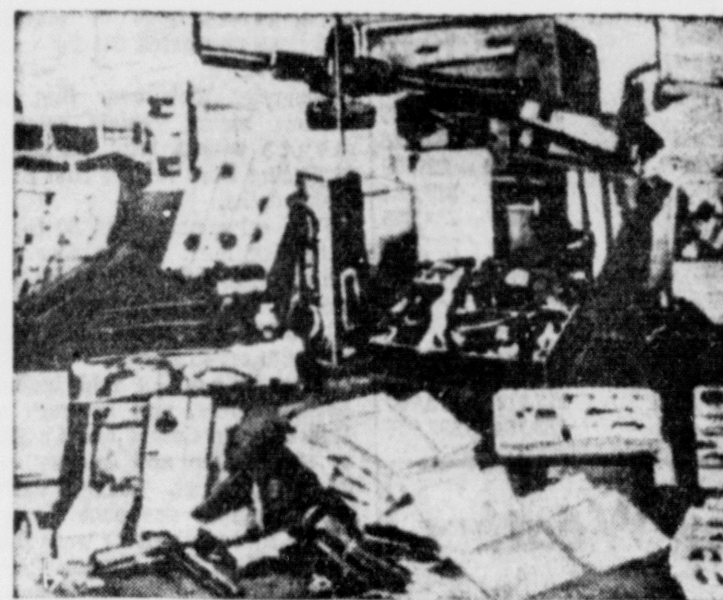

His worst insults were reserved for Eisenhower and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Eisenhower, Khrushchev said, was "weak-kneed" fit only to run a children's home and "completely lacking in will-power."

He Lives by Paragraphs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Curious citizens who plumped down two pennies 80 years ago for the first copy of the Kansas City Star were fascinated by an editorial page column of unusual paragraphs.

Sample items: "Modjeska is fond of onions." "Garfield's cousin is in the Indiana penitentiary."

"A Colorado girl has lost her leg, and her gallant lover had a pocketbook made of a piece of tanned skin from the amputated part."

The newspaper founded by robust, barrel-bodied William Rockhill Nelson on Sept. 18, 1880—he imported kegs of pennies into the coin-short city to spur sales—has grown into one of America's top journals.

And that column of peppery paragraphs now known as "Starbeams" has won renown as perhaps the oldest continuous feature of its sort in the history of American daily journalism.

Even ex-city editor Charley Blood, still active at 90, isn't sure just how many men during the past eight decades have captioned the "Starbeams" corner. But none has widened its fame

Student Riots Contagious

By George Sokolsky

It is nothing new for students to get excited and make demonstrations. Sometimes, they are serious; at other times, they amount to just fun. The Korean student demonstrations ultimately forced out Dr. Syngman Rhee after his long tenure as President of Korea. The students strike in Turkey has forced upon that country a change of government; the socialist students strike in Japan is still running its course and what may come of it is not at all clear.

The greatest demonstration of students occurred in China in 1919. It changed the course of Chinese history. It was closely associated with it and can speak of it intimately. Starting in Peking and Shanghai simultaneously and independently, the students, inspired by patriotism, objected to China signing the Paris Treaty because of the unfair Shantung clauses. China did not sign. But until the Chinese government made up its mind, the students had succeeded in closing down an entire nation. Not a school, factory, shop, or restaurant was open. Even the prostitutes and sing-song girls went on strike. Out of this movement grew the Chinese Communist Party which today is in control of Mainland China.

The recent San Francisco demonstrations, organized by students of the University of California, are particularly significant. It was a mass strike against the House Committee on

Un-American Activities and the attack was on the City Hall. It was repelled by the police and fire departments. These university students, perhaps as many as 400, were not all Communists, but the leadership was Communist and the main attack in the university itself has been upon the FBI and the ROTC. It is to be pointed out that much of this anti-American influence has flowed over into Stanford University.

One of the principal students called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities was Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore at the University of California. Douglas is a second generation Communist; his parents having been professional Communists for more than 20 years. His mother is the organizer of the Communist Party in the East Bay Region of Northern California. Douglas Wachter was student body president of the Berkeley High School and is a Communist youth leader in the West. He attended the National Convention of the Communist Party at New York in December 1958 as an official delegate from Northern California.

Although the University of California students demonstrated against a duly constituted Committee of the Congress of the United States, President John D. Goheen, of the Stanford University Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, transmitted a letter to the Attorney General of California which stated:

Precisely what dangers to education are imputed in the Goheen letter, do not appear. It is interesting to note that the general university protest was against the existence of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Canon Richard Byfield of Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, said:

"We wait for a time when the

Precisely what this means, it is difficult to say. What does the word "react" mean in this context? Does it mean that students are to be permitted to form mobs to create wild disorder? Is this what the word, react, means?

Assemblyman John A. O'Connell of San Francisco said: "I do believe a Communist has a right to hold his political view and to say it aloud in public just as I am talking here. This very meeting is a graphic example of what it means to a free American."

In these days when communications are so swift, student riots are contagious. When they appear in one country, they spread to other countries. They become a weapon in the hands of Communists who seek to undermine existing governments. It is interesting to note that Harry Bridges and Archie Brown—leading Left-Wingers—appeared in the San Francisco fracas, but only Archie Brown played any role in it. He had to be thrown out of the hearings and photographs were taken of him in excited protest. Apparently, the fire hose doused the excitement.

He had disappeared a few minutes earlier, but Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bevens soon found their little boy. They heard the crash a block away. They left the keys in the car.

Richard has boasted he knew how to drive the car.

News Coverage Of Conventions To Be Costly

TV Programs Alone Expected To Carry Tab of $18 Million

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Keeping the stay-at-homes informed on the goings on at the two big party conventions next month will cost millions of dollars.

News services and individual newspapers, TV and radio companies will have large staffs of reporters and photographers on hand and expensive wire hookups to carry the tidings and the pictures.

One estimate puts TV coverage alone in excess of 18 million dollars. This counts in the actual coverage costs and the loss of revenue from sponsors of shows canceled to make way for the political spectacles in the central rings.

So far only part of the 18-million-dollar tab is being picked up by sponsors eager to tell you, during the intervals in the excitement in Los Angeles and Chicago, about the gadgets you ought to buy.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has sold its full convention and election coverage to Westinghouse Electric for six million dollars, but says that doesn't cover all its outlays by perhaps three million dollars.

The National Broadcasting Co. has lined up three sponsors, each paying $600,000, but taking only a part of the total air time.

The American Broadcasting Co. has one TV sponsor, using even less of the available time.

Mutual Broadcasting System, which has no TV stations, says its plan is to let local radio stations sell the biggest share of the available time for commercials to local advertisers.

Sponsors were more eager four years ago. This time some think the coverage is too costly; some don't like July as a selling month; some think the Republican convention may have less viewing and listening interest this year because Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to have the nomination in the bag.

But Westinghouse says it's quite happy about the results it expects from its six-million-dollar outlay. It insists July is just the time for Betty Furness to sell and sell and sell.

It quotes sales figures to show that July and August are the two biggest months for refrigerator and freezer sales.

If it's CBS you will be watching Westinghouse will be trying hard to sell its products old and new. But it says 21 per cent of its commercials will be devoted to plugging the idea of the total electric home—a goal of both the electric utilities and the electrical equipment industries. A fourth of the commercial will set forth the achievements of electronic and engineering research.

NBC viewers will get messages from time to time from B. F. Goodrich, Thomas J. Lipton, and Brown & Williamson Tobacco. The ABC parttime sponsor signed so far is 20th Century-Fox.

The Westinghouse contract calls for weekly political coverage during the period between the conventions and the election, and the returns on election night.

Businessmen Say America Must Gird For Greater Leadership in World

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Where does the United States go from here?

That question was put to 17 of the businessmen, financiers and industrialists attending the annual Campaign Leaders National Conference here.

Their replies indicated the nation must, above all else, stand firm on its principles and assume a more dynamic role in world leadership.

They indicated, too, that the United States should return to spiritual values, develop greater internal strength and seek a more realistic approach to peace.

Those who answered specifically in terms of the economy talked about developing a "worldwide climate" for U.S. industry and keeping people productively employed in the light of increasing automation.

Typical of those concerned primarily with America's role in world leadership is George H. Dean of San Francisco, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

"Personally, I believe we are headed into an era where our international role will be vastly more important," Dean said. "The reason—and I base this on an assignment I had with the Army in Europe in dealing with the Russians—is that unless we step up and demonstrate to the world that we do have leadership, and recognize that what we do reflects itself in other countries, we are doomed to having our way of living give way to socialism."

Charles C. Horv of Portsmouth, Ohio, president of Vandervort Supply Co., called for a "return to worthiness, an appreciation of spiritual values as opposed to materialistic values."

Dr. W. H. Cruickshank, vice president and general manager of the Toronto area of Bell Telephone of Canada, said the United States must provide "leadership in the free world with all of the sacrifice and privilege involved." And E. M. Blanchard of Edmonton, Alta., president of the Alberta Oil Tool Co., said the Western Allies need to get closer together.

George A. Meihaus of Fort Worth, Tex., vice president of Texas Industries, Inc., said he still has faith even though "current events lead us to believe we are going to pot in a hand basket."

John M. McDonald, manager of the Dubuque, Iowa, branch of the A. Y. McDonald Manufacturing Co., said "Next fall's elections will have a strong bearing on whether we will be able to reconcile the major differences between the free nations and the dictatorial forms of governments, or to extend our way of life to other countries, or to retreat in our position so that other nations will eventually be modeled after the communist form of government."

Mace H. Levin of Mace Electronic, Erie, Pa., said "We need a more realistic approach that will lead to world peace. The realization of our position in the total world is part of it and we must find a place with those people who also wish freedom."

James A. Hughes of Bangor, Maine, administrative assistant of the Eastern Maine General Hospital: "I'm a very firm believer in a very firm hand as far as Mr. K (Khrushchev) is concerned. We must combat fire with fire. We know the Russians are spying. For us it must be the U2 or something else."

L. F. Beardsley of Elkhart, Ind., general manager of Miles Laboratories: "Speaking from the industrialist viewpoint, the climate of U.S. industry must go worldwide. I've lost my isolationist Midwestern feeling and realize the U.S. is in a global economy."

Joseph W. Weber, certified public accountant from Hazelton, Pa.: "I think the U.S. will retain its position of world leadership. I don't think any other nation can fill our shoes."

Morris F. Miller, executive president of the Omaha National Bank: "I think generally we are on the right track. I don't see anything economically, socially or politically to be concerned about except we must rededicate ourselves."

Ora W. Lamb of Muskogee, Okla., vice president, First National Bank: "I believe the U.S. is making tremendous progress, economically, socially and politically, and I feel we will make greater strides in the next 10 years than we did the last 50 years. My main concern is the trend toward socialism."

Prentice J. Rodgers of Albany, N. Y., executive vice president of the National Community Bank and Trust Co.: "We are stronger than before the U2. The effect of the U2 on our economy is unknown and we do not yet know whether we must increase defense spending. But we are in a good position nevertheless."

Fred Herrington of Lincoln, Neb., executive director of the Nebraska Citizens Council: "The United States will continue to be the world leader in peace and in social progress—believe me, I hope I'm right."

William Sylvan of Columbia, S. C., vice president of the Commercial Bank and Trust Co., and Charles E. Boudousque of Lafayette, La., vice president and controller of the First National Bank, stressed firmness.

The president of Chicago's Carson, Pirie, Scott and Co. department store, C. Virgil Martin, answered in terms of internal strength.

Martin said: "An example of the internal problems we face is the fact that in another 10 years we'll have to add 15 million people to our labor force. Our problem is to keep them gainfully employed. This is a problem not only for labor and management, but for the government and the whole society."

Charles C. Horv of Portsmouth, Ohio, president of Vandervort Supply Co., called for a "return to worthiness, an appreciation of spiritual values as opposed to materialistic values."

Dr. W. H. Cruickshank, vice president and general manager of the Toronto area of Bell Telephone of Canada, said the United States must provide "leadership in the free world with all of the sacrifice and privilege involved." And E. M. Blanchard of Edmonton, Alta., president of the Alberta Oil Tool Co., said the Western Allies need to get closer together.

George A. Meihaus of Fort Worth, Tex., vice president of Texas Industries, Inc., said he still has faith even though "current events lead us to believe we are going to pot in a hand basket."

Sesquicentennial . . A Look at the Past

Even before the committee could complete the preparations for the Pickaway County Sesquicentennial Exhibit in the First National Bank 104 E. Main St., passersby were stopping in to inquire about the display.

Many visitors hurried home to bring back an item to add to the collection. The "Bride's Window" has drawn the most attention to date, and the committee hopes to be able to present a new bride and her trousseau each week during the month of June.

The bridal gown in the window this week was worn in January, 1893 by Miss Callie May Barnes, daughter of William Barnes of this county for her marriage to John B. Stevenson.

Three of their sons are still living in the county: J. Beryl, Bruce and H. N. Stevenson; their daughter, Grace (Mrs. Tom Haber) with her husband wrote the Sesquicentennial Pageant which will be performed this fall; Dr. Jean Stevenson and Dr. Frank Stevenson (deceased), Cincinnati also were sons of this family.

THE WICKER trunk in the window has been across the Atlantic Ocean twice. Covered and padded with heavy waterproof covering, it carried the possessions of Miss Annie Gunning who studied abroad when she was a teacher.

Part of the handmade gowns and petticoats were owned by the Misses Sally and Mary Williams, and loaned by Miss Dhel Renick. The hoops and bustle, as well as the handknitted wool petticoat were loaned by Mrs. Dwight Steele, Mrs. William Radcliffe and Mrs. Robert A. Smith, grand-daughters of Mrs. George Hitler.

The high-buttoned shoes currently on display were found in the basement of the building, still unsold after 50 years.

Don't forget the Tri-Township Tour scheduled for Sunday.

Hostesses for the Barthelmas house are Mrs. William Barthelmas, Mrs. Roy Urey, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mrs. H. B. Given, Mrs. J. Austin Dowden, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Ward Peck, Mrs. Emmett Ebenhack, Miss Adabelle May and Mrs. Paul W. Counts.

Mrs. Dick Tiffin Tootle and her son, Tommy, will provide music during the afternoon. At eh Charles Mills house, the hostesses will include Mrs. Charles Mills Sr., Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., Mrs. Norman Mills, Mrs. H. E. Wood, Mrs. Carl Binns, Mrs. Robert Conaway, Mrs. I. E. Funk and Mrs. George Neal.

THE BARTHELMAS house will be open to the public from 2 until 4:00 p. m., and the Mills house from 1:30 to 4 p. m.

No admission charges will be made, but the visitors are asked to leave a small contribution to pay for the brochures which will include a history of the two houses as well as a map of Williamsport in early times and points of interest in Deercreek Twp.

Ashville Explorer Unit Participates In Celebration

The Ashville Explorer Unit contributed to the success of the Armed Forces Day held recently at the Columbus General Depot.

The unit is furnished and sponsored by U. S. Army MARS. This Ashville MARS Unit operates on a network five days each week.

In conjunction with the Armed Forces Day Celebration, the Ashville station received and transmitted over 30 messages. These messages were submitted by the many visitors who attended the celebration and were relayed to the four corners of the United States and to overseas stations by the Ashville group.

Emerson Cline and Jack Lemon, Ashville, are the supervisors for this unit. Many young men in the community are interested in this organization and have become proficient in the use of MARS equipment.

This unit has a great potential for assistance in this area in case of civil disaster. Visitors are welcome to view this operation any weekday evening at the home of Cline.

DiSalle Checks on Status of Sensenbrenner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he is checking to determine whether former Columbus mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner can be a delegate to the Democratic national convention while employed by the State Highway Department.

The governor said Civil Service employees could not be delegates but that he understands Sensenbrenner will receive a temporary state appointment.

A recent announcement said Sensenbrenner would be coordinator for services for motorists along main Ohio highways. Later reports said he would get a temporary appointment—so he could attend the convention—before being placed in the classified service.

Sensenbrenner is on the delegate slate pledged to DiSalle as Ohio favorite son.

The governor released to newsmen a telegram from the Ohio Citizens for Stevenson Committee, assuring him that their support of Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination is not intended to disrupt state party ranks.

DiSalle delegates are pledged to U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for the nomination.

DiSalle answered a suggestion from Rep. Robert F. Reckman (R-Hamilton) suggesting that highway director Everett S. Preston should resign if charges about paint contracts held up.

DiSalle said he wouldn't listen to any proposal for Preston to resign.

News Coverage Of Conventions To Be Costly

TV Programs Alone Expected To Carry Tab of $18 Million

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Keeping the stay-at-homes informed on the goings on at the two big party conventions next month will cost millions of dollars.

News services and individual newspapers, TV and radio companies will have large staffs of reporters and photographers on hand and expensive wire hookups to carry the tidings and the pictures.

One estimate puts TV coverage alone in excess of 18 million dollars. This cost in the actual coverage costs and the loss of revenue from sponsors of shows canceled to make way for the political spectacles in the central rings.

So far only part of the 18-million-dollar tab is being picked up by sponsors eager to tell during the intervals in the excitement in Los Angeles and Chicago, about the gadgets you ought to buy.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has sold its full convention and election coverage to Westinghouse Electric for six million dollars, but says that doesn't cover all its outlays by perhaps three million dollars.

The National Broadcasting Co. has lined up three sponsors, each paying $600,000, but taking only a part of the total air time.

The American Broadcasting Co. has one TV sponsor, using even less of the available time.

Mutual Broadcasting System, which has no TV stations, says its plan is to let local radio stations sell the biggest share of the available time for commercials to local advertisers.

Sponsors were more eager four years ago. This time some think the coverage is too costly; some don't like July as a selling month; some think the Republican convention may have less viewing and listening interest this year because Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to have the nomination in the bag.

But Westinghouse says it's quite happy about the results it expects from its six-million-dollar outlay. It insists July is just the time for Betty Furness to sell and sell and sell.

It quotes sales figures to show that July and August are the two biggest months for refrigerator and freezer sales.

If it's CBS you will be watching, Westinghouse will be trying hard to sell its products old and new. But it says 21 per cent of its commercials will be devoted to plugging the idea of the total electric home—a goal of both the electric utilities and the electrical equipment industries. A fourth of the commercial will set forth the achievements of electronic and engineering research.

NBC viewers will get messages from time to time from B. F. Goodrich, Thomas J. Lipton, and Brown & Williamson Tobacco. The ABC parttime sponsor signed so far is 20th Century-Fox.

The Westinghouse contract calls for weekly political coverage during the period between the conventions and the election, and the returns on election night.

School Head To Attend Workshop

Pickaway County Superintendent George D. McDowell will leave tomorrow for the eighth annual workshop of Ohio County Superintendents to be held in the Lincoln Lodge, Columbus.

McDowell is a member of the planning committee of the three-day workshop. He will head up a meeting of the planning committees and panel moderators.

The main topic of discussion will be the new trends in education and their relationship to the county school district.

Businessmen Say America Must Gird For Greater Leadership in World

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Where does the United States go from here?

That question was put to 17 of the businessmen, financiers and industrialists attending the annual Campaign Leaders National Conference here.

Their replies indicated the nation must, above all else, stand firm on its principles and assume a more dynamic role in world leadership.

They indicated, too, that the United States should return to spiritual values, develop greater internal strength and seek a more realistic approach to peace.

Those who answered specifically in terms of the economy talked about developing a "worldwide climate" for U.S. industry and keeping people productively employed.

Typical of those concerned primarily with America's role in world leadership is George H. Dean of San Francisco, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

"Personally, I believe we are headed into an era where our international role will be vastly more important," Dean said. "The reason—and I base this on an assignment I had with the Army in Europe in dealing with the Russians—is that unless we step up and demonstrate to the world that we do have leadership, and recognize that what we do reflects itself in other countries, we are doomed to having our way of living give way to socialism."

The president of Chicago's Carson, Pirie, Scott and Co. department store, C. Virgil Martin, answered in terms of internal strength.

Martin said: "An example of the internal problems we face is the fact that in another 10 years we'll have to add 15 million people to our labor force. Our problem is to keep them gainfully employed. This is a problem not only for labor and management, but for the government and the whole society."

Charles C. Horr of Portsmouth, Ohio, president of Vandervort Supply Co., called for a "return to worthiness, an appreciation of spiritual values as opposed to materialistic values."

Dr. W. H. Cruickshank, vice president and general manager of the Toronto area of Bell Telephone of Canada, said the United States must provide "leadership in the free world with all of the sacrifice and privilege involved." And E. M. Blanchard of Edmonton, Alta., president of the Alberta Oil Tool Co., said the Western Allies need to get closer together.

George A. Meibaus of Fort Worth, Tex., vice president of Texas Industries, Inc., said he still has faith even though "current events lead us to believe we are going to be in a hand basket."

John M. McDonald, manager of the Dubuque, Iowa, branch of the A. Y. McDonald Manufacturing Co., said "Next fall's elections will have a strong bearing on whether we will be able to reconcile the major differences between the free nations and the dictatorial forms of governments, or to extend our way of life to other countries, or to retreat in our position so that other nations will eventually be modeled after the communist form of government."

Mace H. Levin of Mace Electronics, Erie, Pa., said "We need a more realistic approach that will lead to world peace. The realization of our position in the total world is part of it and we must find a place with those people who also wish freedom."

James A. Hughes of Bangor, Maine, administrative assistant of the Eastern Maine General Hospital: "I'm a very firm believer in a very firm hand as far as Mr. K (Khrushchev) is concerned. We must combat fire with fire. We know the Russians are spying. For us it must be the U2 or something else."

L. F. Beardsley of Elkhart, Ind., general manager of Miles Laboratories: "Speaking from the industrialist viewpoint, the climate of U.S. industry must go worldwide. I've lost my isolationist Midwestern feeling and realize the U.S. is in a global economy."

Joseph W. Weber, certified public accountant from Hazelton, Pa.: "I think the U.S. will retain its position of world leadership. I don't think any other nation can fill our shoes."

Sesquicentennial . . A Look at the Past

Even before the committee could complete the preparations for the Pickaway County Sesquicentennial Exhibit in the First National Bank 104 E. Main St., passersby were stopping in to inquire about the display.

Many visitors hurried home to bring back an item to add to the collection. The "Bride's Window" has drawn the most attention to date, and the committee hopes to be able to present a new bride and her trousseau each week during the month of June.

The bridal gown in the window this week was worn in January, 1893 by Miss Callie May Barnes, daughter of William Barnes of this county for her marriage to John B. Stevenson.

Three of their sons are still living in the county: J. Beryl, Bruce and H. N. The high-buttoned shoes currently on display were found in the basement of the building, still unsold after 50 years.

Don't forget the Tri-Township Tour scheduled for Sunday.

Hostesses for the Barthelmas house are Mrs. William Barthelmas, Mrs. Roy Ulrey, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mrs. H. B. Given, Mrs. J. Austin Dowden, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Ward Peck, Mrs. Emmett Ebenbach, Miss Adabelle May and Mrs. Paul W. Counts.

Mrs. Dick Tiffin Tootle and her son, Tommy, will provide music during the afternoon. At eh Charles Mills house, the hostesses will include Mrs. Charles Mills Sr., Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., Mrs. Norman Mills, Mrs. H. E. Wood, Mrs. Carl Binns, Mrs. Robert Conaway, Mrs. I. E. Funk and Mrs. George Neal.

THE BARTHELMAS house will be open to the public from 2 until 4:00 p. m., and the Mills house from 1:30 to 4 p. m.

No admission charges will be made, but the visitors are asked to leave a small contribution to pay for the brochures which will include a history of the two houses as well as a map of Williamsport in early times and points of interest in Deer Creek Twp.

Government Lets Solid-Propellant Rocket Fuel Pact

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—United Technology Corp. announced today it has received its first government contract to test segmented, solid-propellant rocket engines.

The company, a subsidiary of United Aircraft Corp., is building a research and engineering plant at Sunnyvale, Calif., and a 3,200-acre development and test center south of San Jose. Both are to be completed this year.

The contract, the company says, may prove a long step toward closing the "missile gap" now supposedly existing between the United States and the Soviet Union in the rocket field.

Liquid fueled rockets are awkward to prepare for ready firing and difficult to conceal.

Solid-propellant rocket engines have the advantage of constant readiness, ease of handling and mobility.

Chicken Supper Plans Made at Scioto Chapel

Mrs. Ned Walker, Mrs. I. A. Fausnaugh, Mrs. Robert Hott and Miss Effie Walker served as hostesses for the meeting of Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid held Thursday in the Robtown parish house.

Mrs. Eliza Brooks, president, opened the meeting and led the group singing "My Country 'Tis Of Thee." The Lord's Prayer was prayed in unison. Mrs. Brooks read two poems, "The American Way" and "To Old Glory." Responsive reading of scripture concluded the devotionals.

Mrs. Carroll Reid gave a complete report on the spring committee and the proceeds received from Mrs. Raymond Hott rechecked the donations and plans were completed for the Chicken-Pie-Ham Supper to be held Wed. Clean-up day will be Tuesday.

Mrs. John Morgan urged members to attend Evangelistic Services to be held this week at the Ashville E. U. B. Church. Announcement was made of the Robtown E. U. B. Church and Sunday School annual picnic scheduled for noon Sunday, at the Ashville Park shelter house. Mrs. Coit Wilson reported on the sales - tax stamp collection. A birthday donation was received from Mrs. Howard Younk.

A short memorial service was presented, honoring our deceased members. Mrs. Brooks read a poem "In Memory." A duet "Beyond The Sunset" by Miss Miriam Ward and Mrs. Brooks concluded the service.

Honoring Mrs. Brooks, in appreciation of her leadership as president of Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid, it was agreed that, the first Friday in May be set aside each year and designated as "Fannie Brooks Day." On that day, the members of the aid celebrate with a dinner in honor of Mrs. Brooks.

Mrs. Ned Walker was in charge of the program. Several poems and readings, "Note to God", "Faith", "If Everyone" and "Out Fishin'" were read by Mrs. Howard Koch. A recitation "Safety Rules" was given by Stevie Kempton. The contest was won by Mrs. William Nichols. Mrs. Lawrence Ward won the door prize. The children's prize was won by Jay Welsh. Luncheon was served to 20 members and 10 guests.

The next meeting will be held July 14, with Mrs. John Koch, Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Mrs. Nelson Florence and Mrs. Lulu Owen in charge.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Let Wife Fight Own Battles

DEAR ABBY: My wife often gets involved in neighborhood tiffs. It's usually over the children. None of these disagreements are very serious or lasting, but there is plenty of commotion at the time. Most of the time I think my wife is right, but then I hear only her side of it.

The trouble is she expects me to keep track of whom she is currently mad at and I am supposed to be mad at that woman and her whole family. My wife says a husband should be "loyal" to his wife and back her up.

I am by nature a friendly guy and I don't like being mad at people who haven't done me any harm. This is a sore point between us, Abby, and I'd like your opinion.

FRIENDLY
DEAR FRIENDLY: A man who "gets mad" at a whole family simply because of a quarrel between wives, shows his stupidity, not his loyalty. Let your wife fight her own battles and don't get involved in the neighborhood squabbles.

DEAR ABBY: My husband plays poker with a group of men every Saturday night. For one lame excuse or another no one else wants to have the game at his house, so it winds up here almost every time.

As in every crowd, there's always someone who wants to play "one more hand" to recoup his losses. As a result they play until dawn. I don't have to stay up to wait on them, but I can't sleep with those poker chips clinking all night.

Am I being unreasonable to ask them to have the game somewhere else once in a while?

MRS. CHIPS
DEAR MRS. CHIPS: If you want to keep the home fires burning, take the chip off your shoulder.

der and throw it on the logs. Many "poker widows" would love to have your problem. At least you know where your husband is every Saturday night.

DEAR ABBY: Eleven years ago I married a man whose parents were European-born. His family thinks he has a halo over his head and I have horns growing out of mine. They all speak very good English, but when I'm around they start talking an old country language which they know I can't understand. They claim they don't speak English because they don't want the children to understand what they are saying. Yet they use the most vulgar words in the English language when the children are present. I don't get it. Don't tell me to complain to my husband. His parents can do no wrong. How does a good wife who loves her husband cope with a problem like this?

NEEDING ADVICE
DEAR NEEDING: Ask your husband to teach you a few words of that foreign language. Then learn a few phrases. Next time his family congregates, toss out a phrase or two in their native tongue. Look wise and chime in occasionally. They'll assume you know more than you do, and soon they'll figure they might as well speak English, or learn another language.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ashville Nips GE Crew, 3-2

Good, Rathbun In Mound Duel

Two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning gave host Ashville a 3-2 victory over General Electric in the season's Babe Ruth League opener yesterday.

The loss was a heartbreaker of GE hurler John Good who allowed the Ashville crew only one hit, a double by Sonny Roof in the first inning. The veteran pitcher held the enemy in check the rest of the way.

GE collected four hits off Tom Rathbun, including a long double by Catcher Bobby Good which brought home a run.

General Electric's downfall came in the sixth when two errors permitted two runs to score. The locals had held a 2-1 lead until that time.

ASHVILLE got its first run in the first on Roof's double to center. He scored a moment later on a walk with the bases loaded.

GE went ahead in the second when John Good reached first on an error. Brother Bobby promptly chased him across with his shot into left field. He crossed the plate on Bob Purcell's single into right.

GE's other two hits were accounted for in the third on David's Bass's rifle single into center and Jim Wood's drag bunt in the sixth.

Good and Rathbun hooked up in a real pitcher's duel. Rathbun, using a good fastball, fanned 14 and walked one. Good whiffed six and walked five.

Little League Organized At Ashville

A newly organized Little League Baseball program has started in Ashville and has been named the Teay's Valley Little League.

Six teams make up the league and will play each week on the Ashville Park diamond on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The following schedule has been set up for the first two weeks: June 7—team 1 vs. 2; June 8—team 3 vs. 4; June 10—team 5 vs. 6; June 13—team 6 vs. 3; June 15—team 2 vs. 5; and June 17—team 1 vs. 4.

Felix Dore, president of the league, has expressed hopes of the committee and managers that the league will be successful and that everyone in the community will support these young boys by attending games and back the program.

Team managers and members are:

TEAM 2—Roy Binton, manager; Rick Brown, Mitch Clay, Paul Harris, Rick Lemaster, Ernie Hacker, John H. Owens, Mike Eminon, John Smith, Mike McNamee, Bruce Brown, Tom Sothorn, Keith Glaspoole, and Terry Noggle.

TEAM 4—Ralph McCain, manager; Ricky Dering, Martin Youngkin, Terry Hanley, Dick Stephenson, Billy Giese, Fritz Kriger, Don Wood, Mike Greene, Randy Wilson, Curt Logan, John Reese, Fred Miller, and Jay Bastian.

TEAM 5—Don Hyatt, Leonard Walters, and Robert Barr, managers; Ron Leatherwood, John Wylie, Ken Brown, Fred Walters, Dave Downs, Danny Jones, Bill Welsh, Richard Barr, Andy Ward, Bill Topping, Mark Leatherwood, Clarence Seyfang, and Bob Welsh.

Kuhn Boys Retain Kart Win Habits

The local go-kart expert took first place in the consolation race and first place in three features. His brother, Tommy Ray, earned a trophy for taking first place in one consolation race.

The Kuhn brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus E. Kuhn Sr.

Piersall Gives His Side Of Story about Behavior

BOSTON (AP)—What's happening to Cleveland's Jim Piersall—a model of good conduct in spring training, but now at the center of disturbances in each of the Indians' last three series?

One thing certain—emotional upsets aren't hurting his baseball performance. The jittery centerfielder is batting .321, has seven home runs, leads his club in stolen bases and has sparked in the field.

It's also noteworthy that those closest to Piersall—his wife, Mary; Manager Joe Gordon and General Manager Frank Lane—don't seem much worried that Piersall is heading for another nervous and mental breakdown. He was institutionalized after such a breakdown in 1952.

Mrs. Piersall says Jim "leads a perfectly normal life at home" with their seven children and is "always so pleasant and understanding."

Gordon pointed out Piersall is about 15 pounds under his usual weight. The manager and Lane agree the 30-year-old outfielder, hitting .50 points above his lifetime average, is driving himself too hard and exhausting himself physically and emotionally.

Piersall says his side of the recent incidents "has never been told." He said he doesn't "want to be treated any differently than the others."

"I expect to be ridden and I expect to be brushed back," he said. "In fact it's an honor. It has hardly happened to me because I never hit so well before. But I don't expect to be killed."

Here, much abbreviated, is the version Piersall gave Monday to Hal Lebovitz, Cleveland Plain Dealer sports writer, in a telephone interview about the trio of outbursts:

May 29 at Detroit—"I don't mind what the fans throw at me verbally. They can laugh at me, call my mother and father crazy, call me nuts. I can take that. But when they throw ice cubes, paper clips, bolts, golf balls and firecrackers, I'm not nuts enough to stand around and wait to lose an eye."

"I went up to Larry Napp, the umpire at second base, and asked him to make an announcement that if fans kept throwing things the game would be forfeited. He just laughed at me."

May 30 at Chicago—"Napp was behind the plate and I was on second base when he called what I considered a bad strike. I started to yell at Napp and wave my arms. Nothing would have happened if that new umpire (Cal) Drummond hadn't stepped in."

By that Piersall meant he tossed helmets and a bucket out of the dugout, later heaved a ball against Bill Veeck's $350,000 scoreboard, and got himself fined $250.

June 5 in Cleveland vs. Detroit—"They started on me. I didn't start on them. In the third inning, when I was in the on-deck circle, my plastic helmet was on the ground. Jimmy Dykes (Tiger manager) yelled to the umpire, who made me put it on."

"When I came to the plate, they were yelling at me from their dugout. Dykes was right up there in front. I pointed toward the fence

"I figured the first pitch would be a curve and I really tried to hit it out. It was so pretty I stood there and watched it go out of the park. I wish my wife had been there to see it. When I got to third I tipped my hat at Dykes and yelled, 'Now get on that one.'"

"Before it was my turn to bat in the fifth a Detroit player—I'm not revealing his name—said to me: 'Jimmy, they're going to stick one in your ear next time. Be careful.'"

"I thought it over and decided to get that new helmet we have."

Coca Cola, Lincoln Plastic, Ward's Market Post Victories

Coca Cola, Ward's Market and Lincoln Plastic racked up opening night victories in the Circleville Little League last night.

The Coke Jets went on a 17-hit rampage in blasting last year's major league defending champion, The Herald, 16-0. Chester Hill held the Herald to two harmless singles in posting his first win.

Ward's Market tied into minor league defending titlist, First National Bank, for 24 hits and a 25-17 victory. Although losing by eight runs, First National smashed 22 hits, five for extra bases.

Lincoln Plastic spotted Savings Bank nine runs in the first inning off seven straight walks before rallying in the final inning for an 11-10 win.

COKE'S CHESTER Hill was near perfect on the mound last night, fanning 11 and issuing six free passes. In addition he aided his own cause with 3 for 3 at the plate, which included a triple and a home run.

Brother George Hill went 2 for 4. Other top sluggers were Steve Dade, 3 for 4, which included a double and a triple; Ricky Congrove, 3 for 4; David Levy, 2 for 2 with a two-bagger, and Larry Sykes, 2 for 4.

Garry Hoffman took the loss, allowing 11 runs and 13 hits before being relieved by Jimmy Strous in the fourth. Only singles off Hill were by Danny Gibbs in the third and Jim Diltz in the sixth.

The marathon Ward's and First National slugfest initiated the Southend Playground diamond. Robert Tootle notched the win while Mike Turner absorbed the loss.

Ward's extra base blows included doubles by Tootle, Neal and Rodney Hedges and triples by Tootle with two, Hedges and Millard Good. Robert Clifton led the Bankers with two doubles and a triple while another Clifton batted out a two-bagger and Turner had a double.

Top hitters were Tootle, 4 for 6; Bryce Brown, 3 for 5; Hedges, 5 for 5; Good, 4 for 5; Turner, 4 for 4; Clifton 3 for 3 and Bob Clifton, 4 for 5.

MIKE Martindale came in relief of Bobby Pritchard in the first inning to notch his first win. Mike Young was nipped with the defeat.

Plastic jumped to a 2-0 lead, but Savings rallied for nine runs in the bottom of the first to take a 9-2 lead. Savings stretched its margin to 10-4 in the third.

The first pitch was inside, but not really too close. Red Wilson (Tiger catcher) started to swear at (Pete) Burnside. "Hit this so-and-so show boat," he shouted. The next pitch was over my head. "Now Wilson became furious. He called Burnside a gutless and everything else he could think of. (Umpire John) Flaherty couldn't stop him."

"I said to Wilson: 'If I get hit on the top of the head, I'll kill you with this bat.' Burnside threw the ball behind me, and that's when Flaherty fined him ($50).

Two Residents Win Trophies

Two Pickaway County residents won Trophies Sunday in the highly competitive Chillicothe Kiwanis Charity Horse Show held in the Ross County Fairgrounds.

The Show's proceeds went to the Ross County Council for Retarded Children. It drew more than 200 horses from Ohio and adjoining states.

Pickaway County was well represented with 15 entrants in various classes. In a field of 19 entries, Sterling Poling was awarded the blue ribbon and trophy astride "Sandy" in the Pleasure Horse Class with riders over 17 eligible.

Marjorie Hanck, showing "Big Ed", took fifth in the same class. Poling came back with the Reserve Champion ribbon in the Pleasure Horse Championship Stake.

IN THE three-gaited qualifying event for horses 15' 2" and over, Emmett Ebenhack's gelding, "Prince Valiant", with trainer Linda McGraw up, placed fourth in a class of 15.

Diana Ankrom, riding Dale Ankrom's "Ichabod", placed sixth in an extra large English Equitation class for riders over 16-years-of-age.

Young Drexel Poling, showing "Sandy", tied for second in the Pleasure Horse Class for riders under 16-years-of-age.

On Stake Night, held Saturday, Judy Ankrom aboard "Calico Kid", took a fourth in good Western Pony Class.

The Pickaway County 4-H Colt and Quiltation Club showed a yearling colt class Sunday. Results of the judging were:

For the past several years the Chillicothe organization has provided this class for the Pickaway County 4-H Club. Its purpose is made up by donations from interested horsemen at the Show.

There were five horses entered in different class. All gave creditable performances.

Dr. Floyd Dunlap, veterinarian at 454 N. Court St., is the advisor to the club of young 4-H horsemen. His able assistants are Susan Le Valley, New Holland; Marvin Reichelderfer, Tarleton, and Mrs. William Pike, Route 4.

Horsemen stated that while county residents have been showing some excellent stock in Western Horse and Pony events over the past years, the community once again is being well represented in American Saddlebred and English Equitation classes, largely due to the efforts of Dr. Dunlap.

Go-Karters To Meet

Circleville Go-Kart enthusiasts will meet 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Wilmington Pacer Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—It was a night for longshots at Lebanon Raceway Monday—except in the featured pace where Rudy Blackstone showed the way.

Indians Send Bond Back to Minor Level

BOSTON (AP)—Walter Bond, the big noise of the Cleveland Indians' spring training season shipped out to Toronto under a 24-hour recall option Monday night saying:

"I just couldn't get started. I'll be back. And it won't be long either."

As the Indians came here for a four-game series with the last-Boston Red Sox they called up Chuck Tanner from the disabled list to replace Bond as a utility outfielder. Tanner who hit .318 with Minneapolis last season severed a leg tendon in an accident at his home in New Castle Pa. just before spring training started. Not until last week was he able to begin taking batting practice.

Bond's average had dropped to .188 on 15 hits including three homers in 40 at-bats.

"We haven't given up on him," said General Manager Frank Lane. "Joe (Gordon) and I both think he will be a good hitter some day but he'll never prove it unless he gets a chance to play."

Jim Grant was named by Gordon to hurl tonight's opener and Jim Perry was assigned one of the two-night doubleheader games here Wednesday.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Texas Eastern is Adding to the Energy Supply

In addition to transporting energy in the form of natural gas and petroleum products, Texas Eastern also produces energy from its oil and gas wells. Through its Oil Division, Texas Eastern is carrying forward extensive oil and gas exploration and production programs.

The crude oil produced by Texas Eastern is pipelined to refineries to be converted into scores of different products, including fuels to power airplanes, automobiles, trucks, farm and construction equipment, and to fire boilers and furnaces.

The natural gas produced by Texas Eastern is either transported through pipelines to provide energy for consumers, or injected back into the ground to recover more energy-producing liquid hydrocarbons.

Texas Eastern thus serves the nation in two capacities: as a producer and as a pipeliner of energy.

Ashville Nips GE Crew, 3-2

Good, Rathburn In Mound Duel

Two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning gave host Ashville a 3-2 victory over General Electric in the season's Babe Ruth League opener yesterday.

The loss was a heartbreaker of GE hurler John Good who allowed the Ashville crew only one hit, a double by Sonny Roof in the first inning. The veteran pitcher held the enemy in check the rest of the way.

GE collected four hits off Tom Rathburn, including a long double by Catcher Bobby Good which brought home a run.

General Electric's downfall came in the sixth when two errors permitted two runs to score. The locals had held a 2-1 lead until that time.

ASHVILLE got its first run in the first on Roof's double to center. He scored a moment later on a walk with the bases loaded.

GE went ahead in the second when John Good reached 'first on an error. Brother Bobby promptly chased him across with his shot into left field. He crossed the plate on Bob Purcell's single into right.

GE's other two hits were accounted for in the third on David's Bass's rifle single into center and Jim Wood's drag bunt in the sixth.

Good and Rathburn hooked up in a real pitcher's duel. Rathburn, using a good fast ball, fanned 14 and walked one. Good whiffed six and walked five.

Babe Ruth play opens at Tod Lewis Park Wednesday when DuPont meets the unopposed team at 7:30.

May 29 at Detroit—"I don't mind what the fans throw at me verbally. They can laugh at me, call my mother and father crazy, call me nuts. I can take that. But when they throw ice cubes, paper clips, bolts, golf balls and firecrackers, I'm not nuts enough to stand around and wait to lose an eye."

"I went up to Larry Napp, the umpire at second base, and asked him to make an announcement that if fans kept throwing things the game would be forfeited. He just laughed at me."

May 30 at Chicago—"Napp was behind the plate and I was on second base when he called what I considered a bad strike. I started to yell at Napp and wave my arms. Nothing would have happened if that new umpire (Cal) Hammond hadn't stepped in.

By that Piersall meant he tossed helmets and a bucket out of the dugout, later heaved a ball against Bill Veeck's $350,000 scoreboard, and got himself fined $250.

June 5 in Cleveland vs. Detroit—"They started on me. I didn't start on them. In the third inning, when I was in the on-deck circle, my plastic helmet was on the ground. Jimmy Dykes (Tiger manager) yelled to the umpire, who made me put it on.

and yelled to him: 'I'm going to hit one out of here.'

"I figured the first pitch would be a curve and I really tried to hit it out. It was so pretty I stood there and watched it go out of the park. I wish my wife had been there to see it. When I got to third I tipped my hat at Dykes and yelled, 'Now get on that one.'

"Before it was my turn to bat in the fifth a Detroit player—I'm not revealing his name—said to me: 'Jimmy, they're going to stick one in your ear next time. Be careful.'

"I thought it over and decided to get that new helmet we have,

the one with the flaps over the ears.

"The first pitch was inside, but not really too close. Red Wilson (Tiger catcher) started to swear at (Pete) Burnside. 'Hit this so-and-so show boat,' he shouted. The next pitch was over my head. 'Now Wilson became furious. He called Burnside 'gutless' and everything else he could think of. (Umpire John) Flaherty couldn't stop him.

"I said to Wilson: 'If I get hit on the top of the head, I'll kill you with this bat.' Burnside threw the ball behind me, and that's when Flaherty fined him ($50).

Coca Cola, Lincoln Plastic, Ward's Market Post Victories

Coca Cola, Ward's Market and Lincoln Plastic racked up opening night victories in the Circleville Little League last night.

The Coke Jets went on a 17-hit rampage in blasting last year's major league defending champion, The Herald, 16-0. Chester Hill held the Herald to two harmless singles in posting his first win.

Ward's Market tied into minor league defending titlist, First National Bank, for 24 hits and a 25-17 victory. Although losing by eight runs, First National smashed 22 hits, five for extra bases.

Lincoln Plastic spotted Savings Bank nine runs in the first inning off seven straight walks before rallying in the final inning for an 11-10 win.

COKE'S CHESTER Hill was near perfect on the mound last night, fanning 11 and issuing six free passes. In addition he aided his own cause with 3 for 3 at the plate, which included a triple and a home run.

Brother George Hill went 2 for 4. Other top sluggers were Steve Dade, 3 for 4, which included a double and a triple; Ricky Congrove, 3 for 4; David Iery, 2 for 2 with a two-bagger, and Larry Sykes, 2 for 4.

Garry Hoffman took the loss, allowing 11 runs and 13 hits before being relieved by Jimmy Strous in the fourth. Only singles off Hill were by Danny Gibbs in the third and Jim Diltz in the sixth.

The marathon Ward's and First National slugfest initiated the Southern Playground diamond.

Robert Tootle notched the win while Mike Turner absorbed the loss.

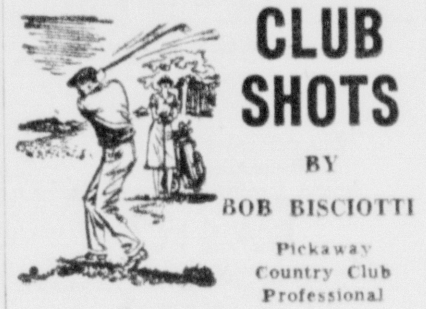

Ward's extra base blows included doubles by Tootle, Neal, and Rodney Hedges and triples by Tootle with two, Hedges and Millard Good. Robert Clifton led the Bankers with two doubles and a triple while another Clifton banged out a two-bagger and Turner had a double.

Top hitters were Tootle, 4 for 6; Bryce Brown, 3 for 5; Hedges, 5 for 5; Good, 4 for 5; Turner, 4 for 4; Clifton 3 for 3 and Bob Clifton, 4 for 5.

MIKE Martindale came in relief of Bobby Pritchard in the first inning to notch his first win. Mike Young was nicked with the defeat.

Plastic jumped to a 2-0 lead, but Savings rallied for nine runs in the bottom of the first to take a 9-2 lead. Savings stretched its margin to 10-4 in the third.

Lincoln rallied for four runs in

Pickaway Country Club Professional

Tom Eveland was winner of the Flag Tournament Sunday at the club. He shot a gross 73 with a four handicap which allowed him two shots at the 19th hole.

Runnerup honors went to Rudy Chelickowsky who fired a gross 83 with a 12 handicap to give him one shot on the 19th.

Third place went to Harry Metier who fired 84 with a 12 handicap to give him an even par. Fourth place went to Dr. Bob Hedges who was within 15 feet of the 18th hole.

Eveland also was the winner of the Stewart Memorial with a net 70. Tied for runnerup honors at net 72 were Harry Metier and Bill Sibbick. Bill Ragan was alone at 73.

Eveland made it a fine weekend by sweeping low medalist honors at 73. Bill Sibbick finished at 77.

In ladies golfing Joan Hawkes had a 56 for nine holes. Dottie Smith made the nine circuit in 53.

The shot of the day came when Charles Smith made a birdie 3 on No. 9. He used a wedge from 75 feet and the ball went into the hole on the first bounce and stayed in.

Detroit Tiger third baseman Eddie Yost never played minor league baseball. He broke into the big leagues in 1944 with Washington.

Two Residents Win Trophies

15 in Chillicothe Charity Horse Show

Two Pickaway County residents won Trophies Sunday in the highly competitive Chillicothe Kiwanis Charity Horse Show held in the Ross County Fairgrounds.

The Show's proceeds went to the Ross County Council for Retarded Children. It drew more than 200 horses from Ohio and adjoining states.

Pickaway County was well represented with 15 entrants in various classes. In a field of 19 entries, Sterling Poling was awarded the blue ribbon and trophy astride "Sandy" in the Pleasure Horse Class with riders over 17 eligible.

Marjorie Hanck, showing "Big Ed", took fifth in the same class. Poling came back with the Reserve Champion ribbon in the Pleasure Horse Championship Stake.

IN THE three-gaited qualifying event for horses 15' 2" and over, Emmett Ebenhack's gelding, "Prince Valient", with trainer Linda McGraw up, placed fourth in a class of 15.

Diana Ankrom, riding Dale Ankrom's "lehabod", placed sixth in an extra large English Equitation class for riders over 16-years-of-age.

On Stake Night, held Saturday, Judy Ankrom aboard "Calico Kid", took a fourth in good Western Pony Class.

The Pickaway County 4-H Colt and Quiltation Club showed a yearling colt class Sunday. Results of the judging were:

For the past several years, the Chillicothe organization has provided this class for the Pickaway County 4-H Club. Its purse is made up by donations from interested horsemen at the Show.

According to interested horsemen and women, this is a fine incentive to county youngsters and good preparation for their project showing during the County Fair.

There were five horses entered in different class at Chillicothe that were former 4-H projects of the local club. All gave creditable performances.

Dr. Floyd Dunlap, veterinarian at 454 N. Court St., is the advisor to the club of young 4-H horsemen. His able assistants are Susan LeValley, New Holland; Marvin Reichelderfer, Tarlton, and Mrs. William Pike, Route 4.

Horsemen stated that while county residents have been showing some excellent stock in Western Horse and Pony events over the past years, the community once again is being well represented in American Saddlebred and English Equitation classes, largely due to the efforts of Dr. Dunlap.

Wilmington Pacer Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—It was a night for longshots at Lebanon Raceway Monday—except in the featured pace where Rudy Blackstone showed the way.

The 4-year-old bay, rated 6.5, was dead last in a field of six through most of the race. But a stretch sprint under the guidance of driver Al Smith brought victory by one-half length after a 2:09 1/5 mile.

Rudy Blackstone is from the Dr. W. E. Frost stable at Wilmington.

Indians Send Bond Back to Minor Level

BOSTON (AP)—Walter Bond the big noise of the Cleveland Indians' spring training season shipped out to Toronto under a 24-hour recall option Monday night saying:

"I just couldn't get started. I'll be back. And it won't be long either."

As the Indians came here for a four-game series with the last-Boston Red Sox they called up Chuck Tanner from the disabled list to replace Bond as a utility outfielder. Tanner who hit .318 with Minneapolis last season severed a leg tendon in an accident at his home in New Castle Pa. just before spring training started. Not until last week was he able to begin taking batting practice.

Bond's average had dropped to .188 on 15 hits including three homers in 80 at bats.

"We haven't given up on him," said General Manager Frank Lane. "Joe (Gordon) and I both think he will be a good hitter some day but he'll never prove it unless he gets a chance to play."

Jim Grant was named by Gordon to hurl tonight's opener and Jim Perry was assigned one of the two-night doubleheader games here Wednesday.

Orioles Widen Their Lead in American Loop

Jim Gentile's Bat Still Booming; Kid Pitchers Remain Hot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The first week or 10 days of the American League season Baltimore's Orioles were winning with Jim Gentile's bat and a bunch of kid pitchers and most everyone said "Forget 'em it can't last."

Now it's June the season's almost two months old—and Gentile is still slugging the kid pitchers are still winning and the Birds lead by 2½ games.

Gentile who homered for his first hit in the majors back in 1957 with Brooklyn hit his seventh of the season and drove in three runs Monday night backing a six-hit pitching job by Chuck Estrada for a 6-1 victory over Washington. It was the fifth success in seven games for the Orioles and added a half-game to their lead over the idle second-place Cleveland Indians.

Chicago's third-place White Sox moved within a half-game of the Indians with their fourth straight victory getting past the New York Yankees 3-2 with an unearned run in the ninth. That was the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the lone National League game St. Louis rapped the last-place Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 for right-handed Larry Jackson's sixth straight victory.

Estrada now 6-1 with his fourth straight victory had a two-hit shutout until the seventh and finished with a six-hitter.

The White Sox 4-0 against the Yankees beat southpaw Whitey Ford (2-4) after being blanked on three singles for seven innings. Luis Aparicio's third single broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth after two errors by third baseman G. McDougald and Sherm Lollar's third hit loaded the bases. Gerry Staley (6-1) won his third in a row in relief of Billy Pierce although blowing a 2-1 lead when Roger Maris hit his 15th home run tops in the majors in the eighth inning. Dick Donovan saved it in the ninth.

The Cardinals closed within a half-game of fourth-place Cincinnati by coming from behind against rookie Chris Short (2-1) making his first start. They scored an unearned run in the fourth then won it with two in the fifth on Ken Boyer's infield hit a walk Hal Smith's single and a double by Curt Flood.

Bolt Collects

Purse at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —Tommy Bolt goes to the National Open golf tournament next week with a fat wallet and a sweet clutch victory over two tough pros — Ben Hogan and Gene Littler.

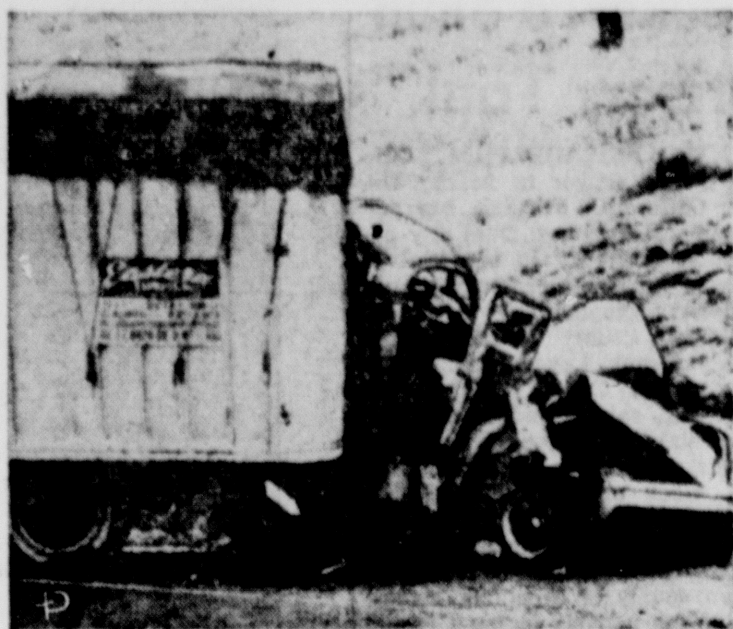

Bolt shook off the pressure of Hogan's back nine stretch run to win Monday's 18-hole playoff for top money in the $30,000 Memphis Open by a stroke. Gene Littler finished third.

It was the first tournament victory for the flashy dresser from Crystal River, Fla., since he took the National Open in 1958. It paid off with $4,300.

Bolt toured the 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course in 33-35-66. Hogan, of Fort Worth, Texas, made it in 37-32-69. Littler, of San Diego, Calif., was 36-35-71.

Senate Bill Said Key to Third League

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Shea founding father of the Continental League today appealed to Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) to permit the controversial Kefauver bill to go to the Senate floor for a vote.

The bill which would curtail player operations by the major leagues by permitting the draft of any player in the minors with four years' experience in organized ball must go through if the Continental League is to make it Shea admitted.

Last Friday Keating kept the bill from reaching a vote by exercising his personal privilege. He asked for a one-week delay.

"I hope Sen. Keating lives up to his word that he is interested in expansion," Shea said. "If he forces further delay while saying he is for expansion, it would be a bad situation."

"I am taking his word that he wanted only a one-week delay. A week delay is all we can stand. Even that would be harmful. Another delay would be murder. But I am certain that once it reaches the floor, it will be passed."

Shea's statements followed Continental League President Branch Rickey's endorsement of the bill. Rickey also blasted American Assn. President Ed Doherty as the "understaker of the American Assn."

Rickey said the American Assn. is demanding one million dollars indemnity for each of the five cities it stands to lose to the new league.

He accused Doherty of trying to sabotage the Continental by making unreasonable demands.

He added that the Continentals would move the five American Assn. franchises they are slated to take over to other cities and operate them as farm clubs, thus protecting and insuring the league.

Jockey Picks Bally Ache in Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Bobby Ussery calmly analyzed the Belmont Stakes and came up with (to him) the obvious answer today.

"Strictly a two-horse race," he said. "Bally Ache and Tompion. And the way Bally Ache beat the other one in the Jersey Derby, there's no doubt as to how it will finish. Bally Ache will win."

Ussery, of course, is prejudiced. He is Bally Ache's jockey.

Bobby has been practically living with Bally Ache. Monday he took the big colt on his final big workout for Saturday's Belmont Stakes and was caught in 1:46 for the mile.

The Belmont has more than ordinary interest for Bally Ache. A victory and he clinches the 3-year-old crown.

The Belmont is a longer race, a mile and a half, but the distance couldn't worry Ussery less.

Bobby Locke of South Africa has won the British Open golf title four times.

Schoolteacher Faces Hearing For Sex Talk

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A schoolteacher, threatened with loss of his job for discussing sex in the classroom, has promised to go to court if necessary to prevent his ouster.

The Milwaukee School Board will meet here tonight to consider a recommendation by Supt. of Schools Harold S. Vincent that it fire Edwin M. Wasilewski, 34, a speech teacher at Boys' Technical High School.

Vincent said he had suspended the teacher May 9 after two pupils wrote a school director about the class discussions. The superintendent said his investigation disclosed that Wasilewski had discussed premarital relations, prostitution, abortion and homosexuality.

Wasilewski said the sex issue came up in a class discussion of a great variety of subjects and he concluded it would be an effective way of making the class aware of the dangers involved. He said there was no rule against teaching about sex.

Wasilewski has taught here since 1956.

The Milwaukee Teachers Union, of which he is a member, has hired an attorney to represent him. Wasilewski is a bachelor.

Polio Victim Finally Wins Nurse Degree

BOSTON (AP) — Marjorie O'Brien, 25, a polio victim and a night nurse, is to receive her bachelor of science degree from the Boston College School of Nursing a week from today.

She entered Boston College in 1958 and at the same time took her night job at the hospital. Director Geneva Katz said of her: "Nothing could stand in her way. Nothing has. Whatever she does in the future she will do it well."

Asked how she was able to persevere through the academic and hospital training routine, Miss O'Brien said: "By the grace of God, my wonderful classmates—and the policemen on the beat."

Officer Joe Mazzuchelli met her every day when she drove up to school in her automobile. He lifted her into her wheel chair and Marjorie then rolled to the school elevator and to her classroom.

Mary A. Gardner Slated for PhD At Minnesota U.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Gardner are planning to leave on Thursday for Minneapolis, Minn., to attend graduation exercises at the University of Minnesota on June 11.

Their daughter, Mary Adelaide, will be among the graduates. She will receive her PhD from the School of Journalism.

Her theme for her dissertation is "International Relations and Political Science. In her research, she has done extensive traveling especially in South and Central America.

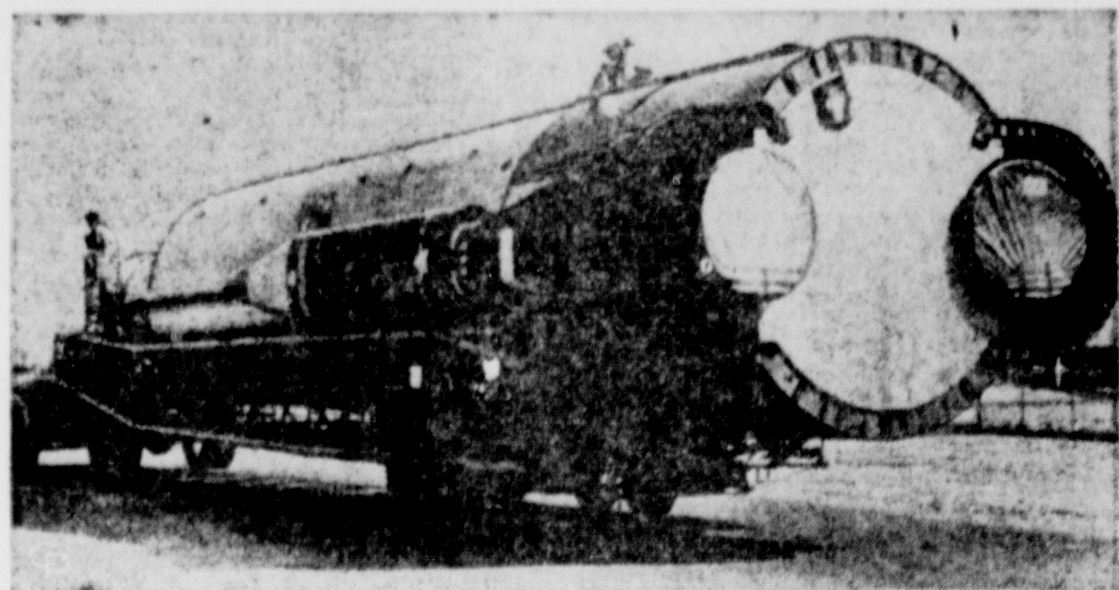

Mary's degree will be the only doctorate received by a woman from that University.

Mrs. Teegardin On Staff of OSU Institute

Mrs. Paul W. Teegardin, Oakwood Stock Farm, Ashville, will be a member of the Ohio State University Church Music Staff which will present its annual Church Music Institute on the OSU Campus, June 13-17.

This institute is headed by Dr. Wilbur Heid. It is geared to be of service to Ministers, Choir directors, and church organists, as well as church laymen who are interested in the beautifying of their worship service.

New music materials for every phase of a church music program will be presented to help the church musician build the year's program on the correct type of music for a particular denomination.

All of Protestant denominations and the Roman Catholic Church are considered in this institute which attracts church people from all parts of the United States.

MRS. Teegardin's area of discussion will be focused on "Children in the Church Music Program."

Jacqueline Cochran Is First Woman To Fly at Mach 2

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jacqueline Cochran, the famed aviatrix, Monday became the first woman to fly at Mach 2—twice the speed of sound.

Riding in the bombardier-navigator's compartment of a North American Aviation A3J Vigilante, Miss Cochran racked up another feminine first when the craft streaked through the sky over Columbus at more than 1,300 m.p.h.

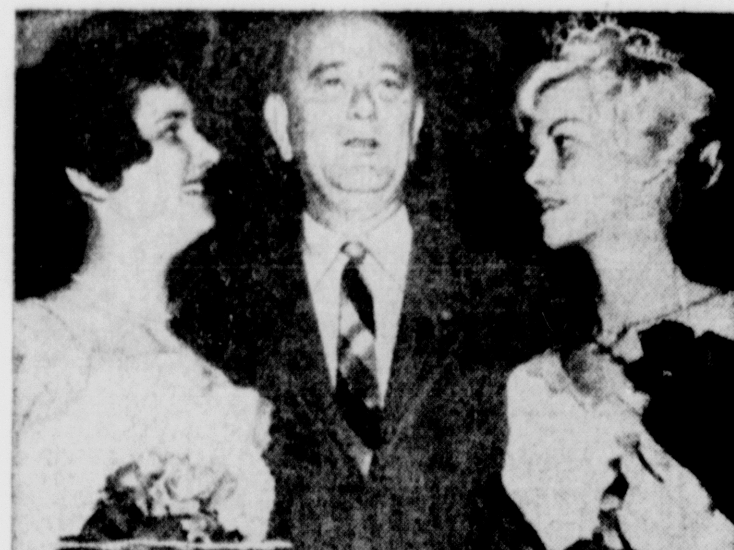

Several years ago the aviatrix personally was piloting an F86 when she became the first woman to fly Mach 1—the speed of sound.

In Monday's flight, North American's flight test manager, James Pearce, was at the controls when the slim Vigilante took off from Port Columbus. It reached Mach 2 speed on a level run at a height of more than eight miles.

The Vigilante, built by North American's Columbus plant, is a carrier-based attack weapon system.

The only woman solo pilot to win first in the Bendix Transcontinental Trophy races, Miss Cochran holds most of the important U.S. and world speed records for propeller-powered aircraft and holds women's speed records for jet aircraft for 100 and 500 kilometer flights.

A complete plan of Christian education based on music education, with materials drawn from the liturgical year music, and with the hymn book of the particular denomination used as a text book, will be offered by Mrs. Teegardin.

"It's convenient and makes good sense to leave the gas furnace pilot light on during the warm weather months," D. R. Cotterman, Circleville manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. said today.

The burning pilot flame — small and inexpensive to operate as it is — provides just enough warmth to maintain a draft up the chimney. The result is better basement ventilation reducing dampness and mustiness.

Cotterman pointed out that summer is also a good time to have the heating system checked by a heating contractor. These men are particularly busy when cold weather first returns and having them make any needed repairs now could prevent delay and discomfort when household heat is needed again.

Wes Edstrom Motors, Dodge and Chrysler dealer of 150 E. Main St., was notified today that Wes Edstrom Jr., has qualified for additional awards presented by the Chrysler Corporation of Detroit.

Edstrom received the award in recognition of his successful, continuous participation for six years in an advanced automotive service program nationally known as the Master Technicians service Conference.

Wes Edstrom Sr., who conducts the Conference, also will receive a special award. This is the sixth time Edstrom Sr. has been so honored.

"We have found that continuous training of our service personnel enables us to give our customers the modern, efficient service so essential to the performance of the present-day automobile, and we can truly say our mechanics are 'Master Technicians,'" Edstrom Sr. said.

Dover Mayor Seeks To Shun Bribery Trial

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—The mayor of nearby Dover, Clifford C. Froelich, has petitioned for discharge from any obligation to testify in the trial of George Markos, a central figure in a bribery scandal.

Carroll County Common Pleas Judge Frank Cope, hearing the Tuscarawas County case on assignment, said he would not rule immediately on Froelich's motion.

Markos, a coin machine kingpin, went on trial Monday on charges involving seven counts of bribery. In a separate indictment, Mayor Froelich also is charged on seven counts of accepting bribes. All of the persons indicted in the scandal will be tried separately.

Froelich said in the petition that any testimony he might give would "constitute facts which are and would be a necessary link in the establishment by the state of material allegations. . . ." The motion was virtually a plea based on the U.S. Constitution's Fifth Amendment.

Froelich said in the motion that he will "refuse to be sworn in" at the trial of Markos and will refuse to testify.

Schoolteacher Faces Hearing For Sex Talk

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A schoolteacher, threatened with loss of his job for discussing sex in the classroom, has promised to go to court if necessary to prevent his ouster.

The Milwaukee School Board will meet here tonight to consider a recommendation by Supt. of Schools Harold S. Vincent that it fire Edwin M. Wasilewski, 34, a speech teacher at Boys' Technical High School.

Vincent said he had suspended the teacher May 9 after two pupils wrote a school director about the class discussions. The superintendent said his investigation disclosed that Wasilewski had discussed premarital relations, prostitution, abortion and homosexuality.

Wasilewski said the sex issue came up in a class discussion of a great variety of subjects and he concluded it would be an effective way of making the class aware of the dangers involved. He said there was no rule against teaching about sex.

Wasilewski has taught here since 1956.

The Milwaukee Teachers Union, of which he is a member, has hired an attorney to represent him. Wasilewski is a bachelor.

Polio Victim Finally Wins Nurse Degree

BOSTON (AP) — Marjorie O'Brien, 25, a polio victim and a night nurse, is to receive her bachelor of science degree from the Boston College School of Nursing a week from today.

She was stricken in 1953 while a student nurse and was confined in an iron lung in the same hospital where she nurses from a wheel chair.

She entered Boston College in 1958 and at the same time took her night job at the hospital. Director Geneva Katz said of her: "Nothing could stand in her way. Nothing has. Whatever she does in the future she will do it well."

Asked how she was able to persevere through the academic and hospital training routine, Miss O'Brien said: "By the grace of God, my wonderful classmates—and the policeman on the beat."

Officer Joe Mazzuchelli met her every day when she drove up to school in her automobile. He lifted her into her wheel chair and Marjorie then rolled to the school elevator and to her classroom.

Mrs. Teegardin On Staff of OSU Institute

Mrs. Paul W. Teegardin, Oakwood Stock Farm, Ashville, will be a member of the Ohio State University Church Music Staff which will present its annual Church Music Institute on the OSU Campus, June 13-17.

This institute is headed by Dr. Wilbur Held. It is geared to be of service to Ministers, Choir directors, and church organists, as well as church laymen who are interested in the beautifying of their worship service.

New music materials for every phase of a church music program will be presented to help the church musician build the year's program on the correct type of music for a particular denomination.

All of Protestant denominations and the Roman Catholic Church are considered in this institute which attracts church people from all parts of the United States.

MRS. Teegardin's area of discussion will be focused on "Children in the Church Music Program."

Jacqueline Cochran Is First Woman To Fly at Mach 2

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jacqueline Cochran, the famed aviatrix, Monday became the first woman to fly at Mach 2—twice the speed of sound.

Riding in the bombardier-navigator's compartment of a North American Aviation A5J Vigilante, Miss Cochran racked up another feminine first when the craft streaked through the sky over Columbus at more than 1,300 m.p.h.

Several years ago the aviatrix personally was piloting an F86 when she became the first woman to fly Mach 1—the speed of sound.

In Monday's flight, North American's flight test manager, James Pearce, was at the controls when the slim Vigilante took off from Port Columbus. It reached Mach 2 speed on a level run at a height of more than eight miles.

The Vigilante, built by North American's Columbus plant, is a carrier-based attack weapon system.

The only woman solo pilot to win first in the Bendix Transcontinental Trophy races, Miss Cochran holds most of the important U.S. and world speed records for propeller-powered aircraft and holds women's speed records for jet aircraft for 100 and 500 kilometer flights.

A complete plan of Christian education based on music education, with materials drawn from the liturgical year music, and with the hymn book of the particular denomination used as a text book, will be offered by Mrs. Teegardin.

Visual aids, hand work, symbol studies and other methods, will be offered to augment this program. Persons desiring further information or brochures of this institute may call GR 4-4411 or YU 3-5212.

"It's convenient and makes good sense to leave the gas furnace pilot light on during the warm weather months," D. R. Cotterman, Circleville manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. said today.

The burning pilot flame — small and inexpensive to operate as it is — provides just enough warmth to maintain a draft up the chimney. The result is better basement ventilation reducing dampness and mustiness.

And when the first cold snap occurs, the furnace will be ready for instant operation at the touch of the thermostat dial.

Cotterman pointed out that summer is also a good time to have the heating system checked by a heating contractor. These men are particularly busy when cold weather first returns and having them make any needed repairs now could prevent delay and discomfort when household heat is needed again.

Wes Edstrom Motors, Dodge and Chrysler dealer of 150 E. Main St., was notified today that Wes Edstrom Jr., has qualified for additional awards presented by the Chrysler Corporation of Detroit.

Edstrom received the award in recognition of his successful, continuous participation for six years in an advanced automotive service program nationally known as the Master Technicians service Conference.

Wes Edstrom Sr., who conducts the Conference, also will receive a special award. This is the sixth time Edstrom Sr. has been so honored.

"We have found that continuous training of our service personnel enables us to give our customers the modern, efficient service so essential to the performance of the present-day automobile, and we can truly say our mechanics are "Master Technicians," Edstrom Sr. said.
